WINDSOR ON HOP TO F. R.

Roars and Runs

This is a photograph of an actual broadside, fired by an Italian battleship in an engagement, Nov. 27, with British warships somewhere south of Sardinia, in the Mediterranean. The Italian vessels roared like this . . . then steamed for port, seeking safety. Both sides have claimed victory, creating almost as much noise as the battle itself.

WINDSOR OFF ON SECRET HOP

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 13 (INS)—The Duke of Windsor took off on a sudden and mysterious trip at 9:05 a. m. today in a four-motored United States navy bombing plane for an unannounced destination. It was reported he was flying to meet President Roosevelt at sea.

His Royal Highness would not say why or where he was going, smilingly declaring he was "in the hands of the Navy now."

"Sorry, I can't make a statement," he told newspapermen just before the getaway. "I'm entirely in the hands of the Navy for the day. And I'm sure they will take good care of me."

The Duchess of Windsor, who has been recuperating from a major dental operation, remained at St. Francis Hospital.

News that the Duke was going to make the flight was given to the press at 2:30 a. m. when it was announced that His Royal Highness would depart this forenoon "in a United States naval plane for an undisclosed destination on important official business."

The Duke's aide-de-camp, Capt. Vyvyan Drury, in making the announcement, said that "at the special request of the State Department" he regretted he was "unable to furnish any details whatsoever of the destination or purpose of the flight."

MAY FLY TO F. D.

Capt. Drury accompanied the Duke on the flight. It was expected they would return to Miami late today.

Speculation was keen regarding the reason for the Duke's mysterious trip.

One report was that the President, who is aboard the U. S. S. Tuscaloosa returning from a Caribbean NEWEST "COVENTRY"—Latest city to be attacked by Germany's Luftwaffe is Sheffield, England... famed steel center of the empire. City was reported to have suffered aerial attack of "Coventry" size when Nazi airmen dropped hundreds of tons of the heaviest caliber explosive bombs and countless incendiaries on the largest steel plants in the British Isles.

RAID ON SHEFFIELD WORSE THAN COVENTRY, NAZIS SAY

By PIERRE J. HUSS

International News Service Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, Dec. 13—Dropping hundreds of super-bombs on the highly industrialized northern English city of Sheffield, waves of German planes last night delivered a blow even heavier than that meted out to ruined Coventry, German authorities declared today.

Informed Nazi quarters expressed the opinion that the assault had "wiped out England's billion dollar steel industry."

Squadrons of Germany's powerful JU-88 bombers attacked Sheffield so heavily, it was claimed, that German observers, returning from reconnaissance flights, announced the blow "overshadowed the Coventry attack."

Throughout the attack, German observers said, anti-aircraft fire against the Nazi planes was "extremely weak" and the several hundred planes that participated in the raid all returned safely.

The British air ministry communique said two German bombers were destroyed during the night but did not specify where they were shot down—Editor's note.

The German bombers began the attack shortly after sunset last evening, it was said. They dropped thousands of incendiary bombs and then hurled down high explosives wherever fires were observed.

Meanwhile, authorities said German reconnaissance photographs of the English west coast port of Bristol revealed "unimaginable desolation" among war industries there.

Both sides of the Avon river were said to be hard hit with large industrial sections where mills, docks and warehouses were situated completely wiped out.

An official German announcement said last night's attack on Sheffield dealt a tremendous blow to British steel production for war materials and that it was hampering the manufacture of various articles such as shipyard equip-

British Drive Into Italian Libya Seen As Rout Continues

By LARRY ALLEN

ABOARD A BRITISH DESTROYER OFF EGYPT, Dec. 13 (AP)—With British sea, air and land forces combining in an attempt to blast the Italian Expeditionary Force off Egyptian soil, British sources declared today that the offensive might be turned into a counter-invasion of Italian Libya.

The British appeared to be turning their victory into a complete rout of the Fascists and some said there was a good chance that the drive would not stop at the Egyptian-Libyan border "while the Fascists are on the run."

The order to take the offensive against Marshal Graziani's legions, 70 miles inside Egypt, was a shot in the arm of the whole British imperial army of the Nile. It appeared from advices reaching me on this destroyer participating in the naval offensive.

For weeks, desert-hardened troops—Britons, Australians, New Zealanders, Indians, Poles and Frenchmen have been chafing at long inactivity.

BIG OFFENSIVE SEEN NEAR

Now, with the initiative in British hands, their hour for a grand offensive may have come.

British warships swinging into action to help the army's big push against the Italians in the western desert have hurled tons of high explosives into Marshal Graziani's advance bases, forcing thousands of soldiers to flee in disorder toward the Libyan frontier.

Six to 15-inch shells pouring into the Fascist ranks shattered attempts to reinforce advanced troops. The Italians steadily fell back under land, sea and air attacks and the retreat appeared to be fast developing into complete rout.

The destruction on which this is being written and other units of the British navy swept over mine fields to within a half mile of the hastily prepared shore batteries and threw heavy fire at the Italians.

The Fascist army moving along the Egyptian seaboard underwent what British naval authorities declared to be one of the most destructive naval shellings in history.

BIG GUNS BARK

The warships turned their big guns first upon Maktila, 15 miles east of Graziani's advance base established at Sidi Barrani when he moved across the Egyptian border 90 days ago.

The British shattered that big armed camp, making it easier for the initial land attack.

The British began their attack at dawn and pumped shells for more than an hour into the Fascist position as the rising sun climbed above the horizon.

Italian motor transports were blasted to pieces, troop columns were obliterated. Huge pieces of the macadamized road Graziani had just completed were sent hurtling into the desert sky.

This destroyer shivered and shook as it flung high explosives

Officials said the attack on Sheffield was carried out by planes which took off from bases in Belgium and France.

Authorities also said that yesterday light German bombing squadrons raided London and the sur-

Hitler Reported Meeting Il Duce

NEW YORK, Dec. 13 (AP)—Adolf Hitler and Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop have left Berlin for an unknown destination, a CBS broadcast reported from Berlin today.

BERNE, Switzerland, Dec. 13 (INS)—Despite denials from Berlin, reports persisted today that Adolf Hitler and Premier Mussolini were meeting at some undesignated spot.

The reports indicated that the two dictators were together at Munich, where they conferred on June 18 last.

It was assumed that the meeting was chiefly concerned with the Italian campaigns in Albania and Egypt.

Annulment Sought By Kissless Bride

A slim, ash-blond Dorchester wife today appeared before Judge John V. Mahoney in Suffolk Probate Court to seek annulment of her kissless elopement marriage two years ago with a former Cambridge school teacher.

Mrs. Marion A. Donovan Walsh, 22, of Fremont st., Dorchester, told Judge Mahoney that she was at work in a beauty shop on Dec. 22, 1938, when Philip F. Walsh, then teaching in a Cambridge school, came in to see her.

"Of course I knew him well, your honor," she said. "But he had been away for a few days. He came up to me in the shop and asked me to marry him that night."

"We drove up to Seabrook, N. H., and were married. All the way up he seemed very nervous. All the way back he was quiet. He asked me not to tell anyone about it, and then he drove me home and let me out."

"The next day I worked till 9 p. m. without seeing him, the day after that till 10 p. m. The next day was Christmas Day, he came to my house for dinner. We had been to church services, but he drove my whole family to the church, took us back, and let me out with them."

"I never got a chance to talk to him. Later he was intoxicated. The day after Christmas he came to my house and told me he was going to go to New York."

"He asked me for my marriage certificate. He told me I could tear it up, that no one would know the difference. Then he went away."

Mrs. Walsh testified she had paid for her own wedding ring.

"The next time I saw my husband he came up to see me at work about Easter time. All he wanted to find out was about the bill for the wedding ring. I had paid it."

She alleged fraud and deception in her wedding, said Walsh never intended to live with her as man and wife. Judge Mahoney took the case under advisement.

"Kissless Elopement"

The Bourne crash, worst in the history of Cape Cod, occurred when two cars collided almost head-on on Route 28, between Buzzards Bay and Falmouth.

The dead:
CHARLES G. FARIA, 22, Elm st., East Wareham.

JOSEPH LOPEZ, 21, Wareham
EDWARD L. MORRISON, 28, Walker st., Falmouth.

Reported dying at Tobey Hospital, Wareham, were Henry Monterio, 20, of Elm st., Wareham, and Robert MacDonald, 31, of Onset ave., Onset.

ALL CAMP CARPENTERS

At the same hospital and also on the danger list were Tony Monterio, 21, of Elm st., Wareham, and John J. Hogan, 32, of Broadway, N. Y. Morrison, Summers, Hopkins, Hogan and MacDonald, all carpenters employed at Camp Edwards, were in one auto, headed toward Falmouth, according to police.

In the other car, headed toward Buzzard's Bay, were the Monterio brothers, Lopes and Faria, also Camp Edwards carpenters.

Faria, Lopes, Morrison and Summers were killed instantly. Hopkins died of a fractured skull on his way to the hospital.

The terrific force of the crash catapulted both cars end over end and hurled bodies and wreckage more than 50 feet.

GUARD OFFICER INJURED
Morrison was the son of Postmaster Charles E. Morrison of Falmouth.

Bourne police said that Summers' home was in Jefferson, N. H., and that he lived at Falmouth to be near the camp.

Brighton Man Gets 6 Months For Assault

Despite testimony of his two sisters and another girl, Jacob F. Weiner, 25, of Warren st., Brighton, was sentenced to Brighton court today to six months in the House of Correction on a charge of assault on one woman, and held for the grand jury on a more serious charge involving another woman.

Mrs. Helen Logan, 32, of Commonwealth ave., Allston, told Judge Thomas H. Connolly that as she was parking her car behind her house at 1:15 a. m., Dec. 1, a man she identified as Weiner came up to her and pushed her into her car.

"I screamed, sounded the horn and kicked him," she said. "He fled."

Mrs. Helen Battino, 31, of Garden st., Allston, testified that a week later, at 1:15 a. m., Dec. 7, as she was entering the hall of her apartment house a man whom she also identified as Weiner came up behind her and pulled her dress.

Her husband called police, and Weiner was arrested.

Before a crowded courtroom Weiner offered in his defense the story that on Dec. 1 he had spent the entire evening at home.

His sisters Betty and Marcia and Ruth Wallenstein of Stanwood st., Roxbury, testified he was at home during the night.

"I don't know how much attention we can pay to the testimony of interested witnesses," Judge Connolly said.

Weiner appealed and was held in a total of $2000 bail.

SHIRLEY WARREN, 18, OF DORCHESTER
Not Guilty in Unclad Posing Case

UNCLAD POSING ART, JURY FINDS; MODEL GOES FREE

Art is pure and time is fleeting, according to a superior court jury which today cleared pretty, red-haired, 18-year-old Shirley Warren, artists' model, of a morals-charge in connection with unadorned posing for the camera.

There was no wrong in Shirley's posing, the jury ruled in a sealed verdict—and the verdict was reached in the brief time of an hour and 20 minutes.

The attractive model smiled when she heard the verdict read to Judge James M. Hurley, overturning a guilty verdict in Roxbury court, which brought a suspended sentence by Judge Frankland W. L. Miles.

Then Shirley turned and shook hands with her counsel, Haskell C. Freedman. Arm in arm with him she left the courtroom a few minutes later and in the corridor declared that she still felt a little ill over the whole business.

FEELS VINDICATED

"I feel that art has been vindicated," she said.

Asked if she would continue posing, she said she certainly would "but no more camera clubs."

Then she went to a telephone and called her mother at her home in Mather st., Dorchester, to give her the news. Mrs. Warren, whom Shirley helps to support, has been confined to her home for eight months with a broken leg.

PHOTOS SEIZED

Miss Warren was on trial as a result of the seizure by police of photographs for which she had posed unclothed before a group of amateur camera enthusiasts in a Dorchester attic.

The photographs, Asst. Dist. Atty. Sullivan told the jury, constituted an immoral performance, and a not-guilty verdict "would be giving carte

During final arguments Miss Warren sobbed bitterly as she sat in the courtroom, and averted her eyes from spectators.

4 WORKERS NEEDED TO SPEED YULE SHIP

By JAMES DOOLING

Hammers rap-rap-rap far into the night. There are incessant thumps as cardboard cartons hit the floors of four separate buildings, and the screech of wooden cases as they are wheeled around corners.

Soft voices of women mingle with the shrill cadence of youthful calls, undertoned by the deeper tones of the men who volunteered to help load a CHRISTMAS SHIP FOR ENGLAND.

England's civilians are fighting a hard fight. British Ambassador Phillip Henry Kerr, one-time Marquess of Lothian, is dead. Only a short time ago he was hoping the "Christmas Ship would be full."

A CHRISTMAS SHIP FOR ENGLAND is full. There are many Christmas Ships for England whose cargo space for civilian relief will be filled.

There are now more than 1000 cases of clothing and shoes ready to go into holds of the overseas carriers which must run the gantlet of mines, torpedoes and bombing planes.

WORKERS NEEDED

But to complete the task begun by the Boston Record-American and Sunday Advertiser only a fortnight ago, more workers are needed who will sort, list and pack the gifts that pour in hourly.

NO MORE GIFTS

You will find this Christmas Ship hard work, grueling work; but if you do it you will always have a sense of satisfaction in knowing that it was done in the cause of humanity. There will be no selfish motives to mar your gift of time and labor.

The headquarters and offices of A CHRISTMAS SHIP FOR ENGLAND are closed to the general donations now.

The Record-American and Sunday Advertiser, sponsors of the Christmas Ship, regret that no more gifts can be received.

By Saturday noontime the very last case of garments must be moved into the custody of the British War Relief Society, to be forwarded to England for distribution. That is why the offices at 100 and 72 Summer st., at Otis st., and in Winthrop sq. must be closed to further contributions.

And that is why there are so many volunteer workers needed to sort, list and pack the thousands of items which are still in their original containers.

As was explained earlier in the week, this last process is a race against the clock.

At the time this statement was made the daily flow of gifts, ever increasing, made it apparent that even the large number of persons who were than helping could not meet the Christmas Ship schedule if this flow continued.

What happened was that the flow increased to a flood.

DONOR LIST LONG
Probably never before in the history of New England has there been such a spontaneous outpouring from every quarter.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Wheeler of Middlesex rd., Chestnut Hill, gave $300 worth of baby clothes for the Christmas Ship for one example.

It is impossible, at this time, to

Beal Faces New Quiz in Cambridge Probe

While the district attorney's office cloaked its movements in the greatest secrecy, State Public Works Commr. John W. Beal faced another appearance today before the Middlesex County grand jury probing alleged graft in Cambridge municipal affairs.

Dist. Atty. Robert F. Bradford flatly refused to discuss any phase of the probe at this point, but it was learned that a safe deposit box had become a mysterious factor in the investigation.

Presence of the strong box, held jointly by the indicted Mayor John W. Lyons and Asst. City Solicitor Joseph A. DeGuglielmo, was publicly revealed shortly before Commr. Beal went into the jury room to be questioned for about an hour and a half, then requested to return.

UP TO COURT

Suddenly appearing before Judge Frederick W. Fosdick in Middlesex Superior Court, Asst. Dist. Atty. Albert W. Wunderly informed the court that Asst. City Solicitor De Guglielmo summoned before the grand jury, had refused to deliver the box.

He had asked the city official whether his refusal was based on the grounds the contents might tend to incriminate him and that DeGuglielmo had answered "no," the assistant district attorney told Judge Fosdick.

DeGuglielmo himself explained it was his understanding of the law that matters relating to affairs of attorney and client cannot be revealed without consent of the client.

He was willing to deliver the box "if the court says so," he added.

BOX BROUGHT IN

"I say so," stated Judge Fosdick, and a short time later the box was brought to the grand jury chamber in another part of the courthouse where Wunderly was cloaked with the jury for about an hour.

Indicted thus far in the probe of alleged graft are Mayor Lyons, Paul Mannos, Brookline insurance man; accused of conspiracy to accept bribes; and Architect James E. McLaughlin of Chestnut Hill and Charles Frank, Boston auto dealer, indicted for alleged perjury before the grand jury.

NORTH SEEKONK, Dec. 13.—day determined that George E. Taylor, 24, of Taunton, killed himself while brooding over separation from his wife, Priscilla, of Pawtucket. Taylor's body was found slumped down in his auto. Through six farewell notes, Medical Examiner J. W. Battershall to-

Son Bags 3 Italian Planes, Maryland Dad Celebrates

FREDERICK, Md., Dec. 13 (AP)—Everything was "on the house" at John Stamas' restaurant when a letter arrived from his son.

The son, Corp. Peter Stamas of a Greek army anti-aircraft battery, reported he "bagged" three Italian planes one day last month near Corinth, and was carried into Corinth as a "hero"—with band and all.

Gloucester Users Told to Boil Water

Discovering that salt water accidentally had been pumped into fresh water pipes by an industrial plant along the waterfront, Dr. Paul J. Jakmaus, state public health commissioner, today advised Gloucester residents to boil their drinking water for the next few days.

The situation was promptly corrected, but the commissioner thought it advisable as a precautionary measure to boil drinking water.

2 Senate Pals Seek Same Job

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13 (AP)—Sen. Pat McCarran of Nevada laid claim today to the chairmanship of the Senate judiciary committee to touch off a contest apparently unprecedented in the Senate's history.

Arrayed against him was Sen. Frederick Van Nuys of Indiana, a friend of long-standing with whom the Nevadan has teamed time and again on major legislative questions.

So far as Senate veterans could recall or ascertain there has been no previous instance of two Senators beginning service on a committee at the same time and arriving eventually at a point where each could lay equal claim to the chairmanship. Customarily, committee chairmanships are determined by seniority in service.

But by all the signs that is what has happened in the case of McCarran and Van Nuys, although neither the Nevada Senator nor supporters of the Indianan would concede that to be the case. Both entered the Senate March 4, 1933.

MILDRED LUKUSTA
"Male Tired of Her"

30-Day Bride Wins Divorce

In just one month her husband, got tired of her, Mrs. Mildred Lukusta of North Anderson st., West End, testified today in Suffolk probate court in winning a divorce from Michael Lukusta, also of the West End.

Married on March 15, 1937, Lukusta lit out, she said, on April 15. "He told me he didn't want to be tied down," she stated.

Judge John V. Mahoney allowed her to resume her maiden name, Stein. Equally successful—at least in winning divorce—was Mrs. Estelle D. Kennedy of Hemerway st., Back Bay, who charged cruel and abusive treatment against John P. Kennedy of Boston.

Soon after their marriage at Nashua, N. H., in 1936, said Mrs. Kennedy, he began to drink heavily. That began to tell in his job, four of which he lost in quick succession, she said. But when he began to abuse her she thought it was time to quit, according to her testimony.

Desertion was charged by Louis Yoffee of Hartford, Ct., but formerly of Mt. Hood rd., Brighton, against Mrs. Elizabeth Yoffee of Cleveland, who has a perfect record for answering his letters, he indicated. In fact, she consistently has answered none of them.

She was all right, said Yoffee, while they were living with her parents in Cleveland, but when they started living with his parents here, she grew discontented and left.

Samuel Hugi Rites At Wollaston Sunday

Funeral services for Samuel Hugi, 52, of 445 Newport ave., Wollaston, for the past five year a press engineer for the Boston American, will be held Sunday at 2 p. m., at the Fay funeral home, 8 Old Colony ave., Wollaston.

Hugi, who died suddenly yesterday at his home, leaves his widow, Mrs. Lillias Hugi. An expert on press construction, Hugi came here from New York city, where he was born. He had been considered an expert on newspaper presses for several years.

Burial will take place Monday at 2 p. m. in the Mt. Hope cemetery, Hastings-on-the-Hudson, N. Y.

BRIDGE WORK BEGUN

Construction of a pedestrian bridge spanning Old Colony ave. and Columbia rd., South Boston, to permit safer access by residents of the Old Harbor Village housing project to Columbus Park, was begun in earnest today after exercises at which Mayor Tobin broke ground.

DRAFTEES MAY MISS 2ND CALL

In surprise developments, Bay State draft officials today indicated volunteers after all may fill slots for the second call while the War Department ordered delays ranging up to two months in calling the remaining National Guard units to the colors.

Induction date of the Massachusetts Yankee Division however remained Jan. 16.

Other action on the New England military front included protests of parents against removal of Capt. James H. Anderson as commander of Company B, 184th Infantry, M. S. G. known as "Dixie" by many of the youngest soldiers of Army and Orange.

AIRPORT TO BE READY

In Fort Devens, Massachusetts, it was announced that the new airport there definitely will be completed by Jan. 13, when the 122d Observation squadron, with 14 planes and 20 officers and men is slated to begin training.

Maj. David B. Wadon, public relations officer, was authority for the statement that a "contingent" of 10 of the 171st men in the second call, Jan. 3, will be required to train at the airport.

The number of trainees due to the second call, as predicted, will not exceed ten for each time until a new plan devised by Maj. DONALD C. G. State select trainees is made effective.

David L. in Fort Devens, which now furnish 25 men, has taken steps to avoid ten calls by having 45 men examined twice by five physicians in the basement of the Public Library on Meriden st., it was revealed.

PARENTS AROUSED

At Orange and Athol aroused parents and town officials bombarded Gov. Saltonstall with letters and telegrams because no reason had been offered for the removal of Capt. Armstrong, 69.

The parents, whose sons recently enlisted in the unit, consented to the enlistments because of their confidence in Capt. Anderson, stated Chairman Philip S. Perley of the Athol Board of Selectmen.

It was an order signed by Col. Roy W. Smith of Worcester that removed the veteran officer of his command, Capt. Anderson, declared company.

At Fort Devens only 11 young privates remained of a class of 60 enrolled last September for appointments to the U. S. Military Academy for enlisted men and sons of army personnel.

Common Yule Tree Lighted on Dec. 21

Boston's Christmas tree near Parkman bandstand on Boston Common will be lighted three days earlier than usual this year to permit Yuletide celebrations by those too busy to attend the Christmas Eve exercises.

This was announced by Mayor Thomas as he set the date for lighting the 30-foot synthetic tree to 5 p. m. Dec. 21. About 800 balsams will be used in constructing the tree, and 1200 varicolored light, 93 used in the star alone, will be strung.

And today, black cat and all, good luck came to Mrs. Bondi in the form of a $5000 check for winning a House later will be turned.

LAUDS SHIP DRIVE—Currently in Boston to direct "Old Acquaintance" at the Plymouth Theater, Aural Lee (right), famed director of plays, visits Christmas Ship headquarters . . . and turns over her donation to Mrs. Harold Phillips of Medford. Miss Lee heaped warm praise on the Boston American-Record Christmas Ship program.

MRS. BAGG IS GUIDING SPIRIT OF 10-CASE GIFT

Just one week ago today Mrs. Henry L. Bagg of Chestnut Hill st., Greenfield, started thinking about a CHRISTMAS SHIP FOR ENGLAND.

Just a few hours ago, Mrs. Bagg signed a receipt for ten overflowing cases of clothing and shoes which are in the consignment for the Christmas Ship.

And it happened like this: The original donor, a clubwoman with varied public interests in her own right, had started a chapter of fellow-workers for the British War Relief Society last autumn. But the CHRISTMAS SHIP idea won not only the people of Greenfield, but those of Shelburne Falls, Northfield, Turners Falls and Deerfield.

Mrs. Bagg has a son at Yale, daughters who are studying at Vassar and one at the University of London. They appreciated what is going on abroad.

Fire Chief Herbert R. Ferris volunteered the use of his headquarters for a reception station for donations.

John W. Haigis, once state treasurer, gave freely of the air-time of radio station WHAL. The Greenfield Recorder-Gazette generously donated columns of its pages to carrying the Christmas Ship appeal.

Then, to top it off, Mrs. Bagg not only saw to the listing and packing of all donations, but personally paid the freight bill to Boston.

Is it any wonder that a CHRISTMAS SHIP FOR ENGLAND is meeting with such success?

Aliens Register To Beat Deadline

Increasing throngs of aliens flocked to the federal building today to comply with the compulsory registration law before the Dec. 26 deadline.

The second floor office serving those in the first postal district is open daily from noon to 9 p. m., and from 9:30 a. m. to 10:30 p. m. on Saturdays. Since registration began last Aug. 27, 137,179 aliens have registered in this district.

Prest Defends Crabtree Job

Sharply criticized by former State Sen. Joseph Finnegan over his appointment as trustee of the Lotta Crabtree estate after he had quit the judgeship on retirement pay, recently-retired Judge William P. Prest, defended the action as "perfectly valid."

"I don't indulge in squabbles," said Judge Prest, referring to Finnegan's statement that the appointment by his judicial successor, Judge Frederick J. Dillon, is a simple case of "logrolling."

"The appointment is perfectly valid," he added. "There is no logrolling and no conspiracy, and I have nothing further to say."

The former Dorchester senator in a statement characterized Judge Prest's appointment as "a bit tricky" and stated that "unless practices of this type are immediately stopped, election of judges will result."

Gerry Class Head At Northeastern U.

Other officers elected were Walter E. Keilly of Dorchester, vice-president; Joseph A. Nordstrom of Bridgeport, Ct., secretary and Ralph A. Coleman, treasurer.

do more than record a partial list of donors, a list which will be found in another column.

There will be hundreds of persons whose names will not appear because they did not record them on the packages which encased their gifts.

But to all of them, as well as to all whose names are printed in the Record-American, Christmas Ship sponsors express deep gratitude.

This movement, begun less than three weeks ago, has been a lesson to all who participated in the true, fundamental goodness of human nature.

Let all pessimists who worry about a world going to pieces reflect on this:

There have been more than 800 overseas cases of clothing and shoes packed for A CHRISTMAS SHIP FOR ENGLAND and that more than half of the contents were brand new merchandise.

ALL JOIN IN

The response to the appeal was answered in all quarters, by those of all racial forebears, joined in the spirit of the movement itself—the spirit of humanity.

Out in Greenfield, for example, to cite an outstanding instance of the way the Christmas Ship appeal was received, Mrs. John L. Bagg of Chestnut Hill st., took only four days to collect ten cases of clothing and shoes.

She collected these gifts, with the assistance of Fire Chief Herbert R. Ferris, the Greenfield Recorder-Gazette and former State Treasurer John W. Haigis' radio station WHAL.

There were all sorts of gifts, many newly purchased. At her own expense, Mrs. Bagg had them cased and forwarded to Boston.

That type of unselfishness has been multiplied countless times in the campaign for A CHRISTMAS SHIP FOR ENGLAND.

It is impossible to cite all similar instances and only a general expression of the gratitude due to all who helped is possible.

(For more details on the Christmas Ship, follow the Record-American and Sunday Advertiser.)

Nazis Enslave Polish Blondes

Tall and blonde Polish girls are being enslaved by their Nazi conquerors "for breeding and scientific purposes," members of the Women's Republican Club were told in an address by Mrs. Hawthorne Benedict.

The speaker, who personally witnessed the seizure of Warsaw, declared Nazi officers and soldiers were polite and considerate to the vanquished only until they met resistance.

Other features of German rule charged by Mrs. Benedict were confiscation of personal property, execution of innocent persons, and commandeering of all children over 14, mostly for work in the fields.

Heart Stirred By Gift Sight

Into the Boston Record-American Sunday Advertiser CHRISTMAS SHIP FOR ENGLAND headquarters on Otis st. came Miss Winifred Hughes of Methuen, with a case of clothing donated by her father, Charles E. Hughes of Pelham st., Methuen.

And, after she had looked around —out went Miss Hughes herself, to buy baby clothes with which to make a donation herself.

SIGHTSEERS—Saving for three months selling newspapers, these Portland, Me., boys entrained to Boston and adventure. They found both when they tried to hire an apartment . . . landlady called the police . . . and parents are on the way to collect them.

5 Maine Runaways End Adventure Here

Five Portland, Me., boys who didn't look at all like the men-of-the-world they were, long waited today in Joy st. police station for the arrival of their parents.

The boys might have been all right in their ventures two months ago had a pleasant landlady in Boston if they had not somewhat confused a West End landlady by attempting to hire a apartment from her.

Not at all did they appear to be five boys about town of the usual run, giving it large apartments, so the little st. landlady called police.

Gathered in were one Mrs. Deming Aceto, 12 yr., old cousins both of Newbury st. Frank and Ronald. The latter, 13 and also cousin of Newbury st. and John Rice, 11, of Rose st., all Portland.

The youngsters said they had been selling papers for three months and saving their money in anticipation of the trip to Boston for at least a day of sightseeing.

Finally with $11 each they took a train yesterday and landed here in late afternoon. A few hours afterward they ran into the suspicious landlady.

Police notified the boys' parents and asked that they come and collect their sons.

Identity of Girl Hurt In Subway Fall Sought

Police today sought the identity of a pretty blonde girl who was dazed and unable to recall her name after she fell down the stairs of the Haymarket subway station.

First, incoherent phrases which she murmured to police to City Hospital, officers believed she was trying to identify herself as Margaret Erickson, 23. She was held for treatment of head injuries, brain concussion, and severe ankle bruises.

And Now Crows Crack Pecans!

STILLWATER, Okla., Dec. 13 (AP)—Ever hear of crows cracking pecans?

J. C. Cox of Near Stillwater has seen them do it, he insists. Here's how.

"The crows carry pecans to a fence post and dump them in a pile.

"Then a crow will take one pecan in his bill and hold on to the edge of the fencepost with his claws.

"He hammers that pecan against the top of the post until it is cracked. Some of my posts have half a peck of hulls around where the crows have feasted."

Wanted today.

In a report to Mayor Thomas S. Burgen of Quincy, Dr. Ash blamed 'fatty poisons and buck passing' for checking every attempt of health authorities to purify the water.

U. S. FINDS EUROPE HAS FOOD

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13 (AP)—State department intervention in behalf of food relief for Europe is unlikely for at least three months, a top official said today, because the department has information that there are enough supplies abroad to last until late next spring.

A survey of food conditions, completed for the department by authoritative American sources, shows that Europe faces no starvation for a minimum of five or six months, the official reported.

This information, he said, coupled with Britain's recent refusal to pass food shipments through her blockade, has virtually decided the state department to defer any general action on the subject until the end of the winter.

SPAIN AN EXCEPTION

An exception may be made, informed sources said, in behalf of Red Cross efforts to send supplies to Spain, where the food situation is believed critical, and for shipments of condensed milk and concentrated vitamin foods for infants and children in unoccupied France.

"Since our most authoritative reports indicate that the food situation in those countries which have been overrun by German invaders will not reach the critical stage for approximately six months," one official said, "it is felt that, unless the situation changes suddenly, we can study the problem another two or three months before making a final decision."

WAIT DEVELOPMENTS

By spring there may be developments in Europe, the official added, which would change the whole picture and either obviate the necessity of food ships, or cause them to be rushed.

Even in the latter event, it was said, the relief cargoes would arrive in ample time to ward off extreme privation or actual starvation.

One of the questions officials here would like to see clarified in the meantime is what, if any, action Germany will take in making food for the peoples in the nations German troops have occupied.

Many officials here feel, as intimated by Secretary of State Hull, that Germany's primary responsibility for the plight of these people, and would be the first to make sure they do not starve.

Row Seen in Rubbish Collection Delay

A storm of protests loomed today over cancellations for the next three weeks of rubbish disposal in Arlington. The local public works department said its 1940 budget was exhausted.

In notices left at each home, the department, on the eve of the Christmas season with its huge accumulation of gift wrappings, explained no more ashes, waste paper or rubbish will be collected until Jan. 2.

49,808,624 Official Presidential Vote

(Copyright, 1940, by the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 13—The American electorate cast a new record vote of 49,808,624 last Nov. 5 and chose Franklin D. Roosevelt as the nation's first third term President by a plurality of 4,914,713.

Final returns as compiled by the Associated Press—official in 46 states and unofficial in Nebraska and Rhode Island—show the popular vote to have been divided this way:
Franklin D. Roosevelt, Democrat, 27,241,939.
Wendell L. Willkie, Republican, 22,327,226.
Norman Thomas, Socialist, 116,796.
Roger W. Babster, Prohibition, 48,789.
Earl R. Browder, Communist, 14,861.
John W. Alken, Socialist-Labor, 14,861.
Others, 413.

WAIT FINAL RESULTS

Nebraska and Rhode Island hoped to complete their official canvasses before Monday, when the presidential electors meet in the 48 states for the formality of casting their electoral votes, which were divided 449 for Roosevelt and 82 for Willkie.

The President's total popular vote, including 417,418 American Labor Party votes in New York state, was 609,658 less than the previous high of 27,761,597 which the Chief Executive himself established four years ago with the aid of 274,924 American labor votes. His 1932 total was 22,821,857.

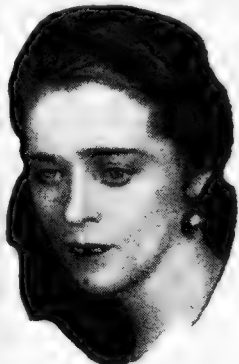

Willkie's popular vote was the largest ever given a Republican nominee, winner or loser.

MINOR VOTE SMALL

Only 239,459 votes were cast this year for minor party candidates. This was their smallest showing since 1924, when they polled 121,587. President Roosevelt's plurality was the smallest since Woodrow Wilson's 591,385 in 1916, and represented a recession from his 11,072,014 and 7,060,016 margins in 1936 and 1932, respectively. Roosevelt carried 38 states. Willkie's pluralities were in Colorado, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Maine, Michigan, Nebraska, North Dakota, South Dakota and Vermont.

SWISS PUT NEW CURB ON BORDER

BERN, Switzerland, Dec. 13 (AP)—Restrictions on travel across Switzerland's frontiers with Germany, Italy and France were tightened today by a decree authorizing the high command to increase military control at certain frontier ports for "urgent" reasons.

The decree gave no official reasons for the new measure. It was believed to have been inspired, however, by efforts to keep refugees from crossing secretly into Switzerland.

Among the new frontier regulations to go into force Dec. 19 was one requiring special cards issued by military commanders for crossing Rhine river bridges in western Switzerland near Lichtenstein and the old Austrian border.

Trucks, automobiles and horse-drawn vehicles are limited to specified frontier roads while others are reserved for pedestrians and cyclists.

Italy Plans Purge of Slackers

By PERCY WINNER

International News Service Staff Correspondent

ROME, Dec. 13—A sweeping purge of dis-ident "middle class" elements within Italy, apparently consisting of slackers, traitors and defeatists, was openly predicted by the Fascist press today.

The Italian government, fully cognizant that wild rumors and reports were circulating abroad because of the progress of Italy's campaigns in Albania and Greece, formally denied that Italian radio stations had been closed down or that the royal palace was surrounded by Black-Shirts.

The official Italian war communiqué could not be picked up in the United States by wireline today because of what was described as "local interference." Editor's note.

On the heels of a bitter attack by Roberto Finzi, chief spokesman for the Fascist party, on former Chief of Staff Marshal Pietro Badoglio, Italian newspapers called for a major cleanup of enemies of the state.

The influential Lavoro Fascista, mouthpiece of Italian labor, said: "In this war, the Italian middle class has again showed its vile face as an enemy of the fatherland."

"As an enemy it will be treated, and eliminated without hesitation or pity."

The powerful Popolo Di Roma was equally outspoken.

"The moment has come," said the paper, "for the Fascist party to undertake the task of ruthlessly and pitilessly cleansing the home front of traitors, defeatists and slackers."

"It must abandon the mentality of pardon and condonation."

"We must severely warn gossipers and pitilessly punish natural skeptics and deliberate defeatists."

Virginio Gayda, press spokesman for Premier Mussolini, wrote that the British offensive in Egypt is an "expression of the fury of a trapped lion."

Peace Novena in All Catholic Churches

A peace novena starting Tuesday and ending Christmas Day will be held in all Catholic churches of the archdiocese, Cardinal O'Connell disclosed today in asking all pastors to arrange services.

In a letter to be read Sunday morning, the cardinal said:

"It is a sad fact that during this holy season, when we are preparing for the coming of the Prince of Peace, millions of sorrowing people throughout the world can look forward only to suffering, privation and starvation. The Divine Child is anxious to send His peace to the world if mankind would but humbly ask His divine intervention."

'Air Drive on Sunday For Vets' Yule Gifts

Radio appeals for contributions to purchase Christmas gifts for each of the more than 4800 Massachusetts disabled veterans of the World War now confined in government hospitals will be made next Sunday evening over Station WNAO by Gov. Saltonstall and Aily-Gen. Paul A. Dever.

The broadcast will be sponsored by the Disabled Veterans Christmas Remembrance committee. Other speakers will be the Rev. Michael J. Ahern, S. J., of Weston College, Adj. William A. Coker of the Crosscup-Pishon Post, American Legion, and Roy Harlow, vice-president of the Yankee Network.

Rites for Legion's 'Mother' Tomorrow

Funeral services for Mrs. Alice Standish Weeks, 77, of Beacon st., Back Bay, official choice as "mother" of Americans serving in the World War with the French Foreign Legion, will be held tomorrow noon at Emmanuel Church. Her son, Kenneth, joined the Foreign Legion in 1915, and her work for these men at her own expense led to organization of the "Home Service" for American soldiers abroad.

GREEKS HURL BACK FRESH ITALIAN TROOPS

ATHENS, Dec. 13 (AP)—Fresh Italian troops thrown into the battle in Albania were reported today to have failed to halt the slashing Greek advance against heights surrounding the coastal town of Chima, north of captured Porto Edda, despite desperate resistance. Here and elsewhere the Greeks said that the Italians were replacing large units with new troops but that the latter were no more successful in checking the Greeks.

Especially large Italian concentrations were declared thrown into the fight along the coast in a desperate effort to halt the Greeks. Italian forces, after a fierce fight, have started withdrawing from Tepeleni, Exchange Telegraph, British News Agency, reported in London today. The Italians were said to be suffering heavy losses. One dispatch from the front said that after the Greeks repulsed Fascist counter-attacks at various points "the initiative along the entire front passed once again to Greek troops and the enemy is continuing to retreat." "A many places the Italian command replaced entire units with fresh forces at the cost of many sacrifices because the morale of the older forces was seriously impaired and they were considered unfit for further fighting," this dispatch went on. "But even these new Italian forces received serious blows and there already are many prisoners from these new units." Captured Italian officers were said by the Greeks to have expressed doubt of Italy's ability to continue the struggle after the likely fall of Khsura Pass, where they had hoped to check the Greek advance toward Tepeleni, road junction 20 miles north of Greek-held Agioceastro. Khsura is 10 miles northeast of Tepeleni.

"This statement coincides with other reports of internal dissensions in Italy," the Greeks said, "and a situation has developed creating insurmountable difficulties for the Italians who are trying to find a way out." "The Italians are putting up stiffer resistance in the mountainous area northwest of Pogradia, on the northern front, but, according to latest reports, they have begun to give way."

WINDSOR HOPS FOR F. D. TALK

been defense inspection trip, may be in the vicinity of the Bahama Islands—which the Duke now governs.

Another report concerned the successor of the late Lord Lothian, British ambassador to the United States, who died yesterday morning. London newspapers have mentioned the Duke as a possible successor to the post at Washington.

An Associated Press dispatch from London said the reported rendezvous of the Duke with President Roosevelt had been arranged several days ago before Lord Lothian's death and was believed to be in regard to the naval bases recently acquired by the United States in the destroyer swap deal—Editor's note.

At 8:30 a. m. the Duke was driven into the United States Coast Guard air station at Miami in a closed car.

IN NAVY HANDS

The Duke stepped out and smilingly greeted the large group of newspaper men and photographers who had been awaiting his arrival.

He was nattily attired in a navy blue suit and a blue and white naval cap bearing the insignia of the Royal yacht squadron, of which the duke was once a commodore. He wore a light blue shirt with small gray checks and a blue and white checkered tie. He was in fine spirits.

Graciously, he posed for pictures and talked briefly to the press.

"I'm afraid I can't say anything he told reporters. 'Nothing, I'm sorry. I'm in the hands of the Navy now. And it's very good hands, too.'"

Someone asked him when he had last flown and he replied:

"In January of this year I flew from Great Britain to Paris."

Asked regarding the condition of the Duchess, the Duke's light blue eyes brightened and he said:

"She's feeling fine this morning, thank you. Very fine. It was a nasty operation."

FORGETS BINOCULARS

Could he say when he would return? The Duke smiled and shook his head in the negative.

"I'm afraid I'll have to be getting along, gentlemen," he said. Accompanied by Capt. Drury, he got into a launch to be taken out to where the Navy bomber was waiting.

At this juncture the siren in the air station began to shriek. A small fire had broken out in a nearby radio shack. Men carrying fire apparatus scurried across the area. The Duke paid no attention to the commotion.

The launch started off. It had gone only a short distance when it turned back. The Duke had left his binoculars in the car. The binoculars were obtained and the launch headed out to the plane. It was now 8:45 a. m.

A comparatively small crowd witnessed the departure. Few besides the press were aware that it was the Duke who was taking off. It was noticed that the Duke wore a "Bundles for Britain" pin in his coat lapel. Capt. Drury carried a brief case.

A tight-lipped silence regarding the nature of the trip was maintained by the Duke's press representative after the departure of His Royal Highness. The liaison officer refused to indulge in any speculation as to the nature of the "important official business" that took the Duke away on the mysterious trip.

London Doubts Windsor To Become U. S. Envoy
LONDON, Dec. 13 (AP)—Official circles withheld comment today on American predictions that the Duke of Windsor might be named Lord Lothian's successor as British ambassador to Washington, but one reliable source expressed doubt that the former king would get the job.

No definite action on a successor was expected for several days.

It was learned reliably that the Duke's reported visit with President Roosevelt was arranged before Lord Lothian died and had no connection with the ambassadorship. It was believed that the meeting concerns naval base leases.

A great number of names have been mentioned for Lord Lothian's post, among them:

fense; Lord Cranborne, dominions secretary; Sir Robert Vansittart, chief diplomatic adviser to the Cabinet; Lord Halifax, foreign secretary; Sir Gerald Campbell, former consul general in New York, and Richard Casey, Australian minister to Washington.

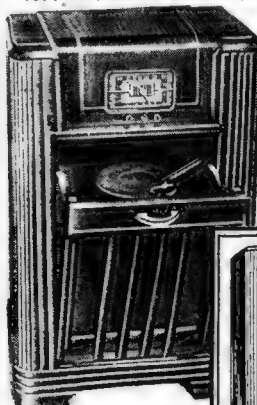

King George VI sent a message to President Roosevelt today thanking him for his message of sympathy after Lord Lothian's death. He also sent condolences to the late ambassador's sisters in Washington.

SHEFFIELD IN RUINS, NAZIS SAY

rounding area, scoring several "effective hits" north of the Thames river and around the Thames estuary.

During the day, it was claimed, German planes bombed individual and convoys British merchant ships, seriously damaging a 3000-ton convoyed vessel off Harwich and disabling a 1000-ton ship nearby.

Death Toll Mounts In Sheffield Raid

SHEFFIELD, Eng., Dec. 13 (INS)—Rescue workers digging through widespread debris in this famous city of steel today aided constantly to the death toll, while damage mounted with the repeated explosion of time bombs dropped in last night's powerful German air raid.

Wide areas in Sheffield were shattered by bombs or charred by fires, but it was declared that the total killed or injured, while "considerable," was amazingly low considering the persistency and strength of the raid.

Many bodies still are to be recovered from the wreckage, and throughout the day rescue squads labored among the demolished buildings.

"FEROCIOUS ATTACK"

In what observers described as a "ferocious" attack on Sheffield, noted throughout the world for its cutlery, large formations of Nazi planes came over the city, continuously dropping high explosive, incendiary and delayed action bombs.

Commercial, shopping and residential districts alike suffered severely. Damage was especially great in working class areas, where numerous fires were started.

A majority of the fires in every area were extinguished quickly, but some burned for hours.

Eyewitnesses declared that some of the raiders swept low and peppered with machine-gun bullets and light bombs the firemen and volunteers who were fighting the blazes.

HOSPITALS HIT

Many sensational escapes were reported. In one case a large underground shelter was hit and a fire started, but the occupants all marched out and were sheltered to safety elsewhere.

Movie houses, stores, churches and hospitals were among the buildings affected.

All public services today were functioning adequately.

A large number of persons were sent to hospitals suffering from shock and bomb splinter wounds.

Freight Train Tieup Tangles New Haven

Several South Shore commuter trains were delayed from 5 to 30 minutes today as result of a freight train stalling at South Bridgewater on the new single track leading into Middleboro.

The freight train failed to obtain proper traction when wet sand clogged before reaching the rails. It was necessary to split the train, and proceed to Middleboro in two sections. The tie-up also delayed other trains inbound from Plymouth, Braintree and South Braintree.

Bay State Hunters Set New Deer Record

The 1940 deer season just ended in the Bay State has set an all-time record for number of deer killed and hunters taking part, James A. Agnew, director of fisheries and game, said today.

With the report still incomplete, he estimated that more than 3000 deer were bagged by some 40,000 nimrods who roamed the woods during the six-day season, Dec. 2 through Dec. 7.

Italian Libya Seen British Goal

at the Italian columns, starting fires here and there.

Then the destroyer swept eastward along the coast to Sollum, at the Egyptian-Libyan border and started all over again. Here it was the same story.

Italian batteries both at Sidi Barrani and Sollum answered the British shellfire, but the closest Fascist projectiles fell 20 yards away, sending a heavy spray over the sides of the ship.

While this destroyer shelled Sollum, advance units of the British army smashed through Italian fortifications beyond Sidi Barrani, taking prisoners by the thousands. The rest of Grazia's legions were forced into a headlong dash toward the Libyan frontier.

Simultaneously, RAF bombers loaded cargoes of bombs which fell among the retreating troops, tanks, armored cars and motor transports.

British Claim 2 More

Italian Generals Seized

By W. P. SAPHIRE

CAIRO, Dec. 13 (INS)—Two more Italian generals and thousands of new prisoners were taken by the British army today as a relentless advance toward the vital Fasil base at Sollum proceeded with lightning speed.

Destruction of more than one-third of Premier Mussolini's North Libyan army was reported in advances which indicated that while the advance continued, "mopping up" operations were in full swing.

Marshal Rodolfo Grazia's troops were said to have suffered some 6,000 deaths or injuries during the past four days, while considerably more than 20,000 Italians were captured and three entire Fascist divisions—between 39,000 and 51,000 officers and men—were swept from the field of action.

Other reports said the British were driving still more thousands of Italy's legions into a narrow bottle-neck pass in the desert mountain range around Cyrenaica and that this may prove a death trap for the Fascists unless they surrender.

Sollum appeared to be the next major objective of the British and its fall was believed imminent if the British advance maintains its present pace.

An RAF communique today said its bombers had raided three major Italian bases, at least a dozen airports and an untold number of troop concentrations, over hundreds of miles of Fascist territory in Egypt, apparently with little opposition.

Immense fires were started at Tobruk, Sollum and Bardia, on the Mediterranean coast, according to the RAF.

Aiding the British advance, the RAF constantly harassed the Italian and "much mechanical transport was destroyed and troops and lines of communication were demoralized," the communique went on.

British and Italians Battle in Sandstorm

ROME, Dec. 13 (AP)—A battle is raging between British and Italian forces in a desert sandstorm between Sidi Barrani, Egypt, and the Libyan frontier, the Italian high command reported today.

Italian warplanes, joining the battle in support of ground troops, were said to have bombed and set fire to "enemy units," presumed by observers to be British warships engaged in shelling the Fascist forces from positions off the Egyptian coast.

A communique said the Italians had shot down 18 British planes and lost 12 themselves since the battle began last Monday.

On the Albanian front action was said to have been limited to small, localized attacks by the Greeks, which the Italians said they had repulsed.

POPE IN PEACE MOVE?

VATICAN CITY, Dec. 13 (INS)—Pope Pius XII is considering a new approach to the belligerent powers concerning the possibility of a "compromise peace," it was understood in Vatican circles today.

The Pontiff, it was understood, has in mind a move comparable to the famous demarche of the late Pope Benedict XV, in the last war, which, however, failed of its purpose.

The fact that Pope Pius appeared recently for a Christmas truce was looked upon as an indication that he feels the prospects of an agreement have now improved.

LONDON, Dec. 13 (INS)—Two hundred Jewish refugees, including 66 children, were drowned yesterday when a motor ship was driven on a reef on the shore of the Sea of Marmara and foundered during a violent storm, Reuters news agency reported today.

The dispatch, dated Rome, was based on an Istanbul report by the Stefania (Italian) news agency. It said the vessel was en route from Bulgaria to Palestine with 380 passengers, all Jews, and that the disaster reportedly occurred off Silivri, Turkey.

The decree named Armand Anet governor-general of Madagascar, replacing Leon Cayla; Henry Rivoal to replace Governor Verber in Cochinchina, and Brig-Gen. Fahey in place of Leon Solomias governor of Niger. Yves Nicol was promoted to the rank of governor of Martinique and Constant Sorin was given governor's rank in Guadeloupe.

PURSE STOLEN—Bag snatchers again were at work today, with Miss Ellen Donovan of Boston losing $3 in Back Bay.

Thief's Aide To Quit State

A 45-year-old Cambridge man accused of "losing" his hat in a downtown theater so an accomplice could steal a victim's wallet, received a sentence of seven months in jail today which was suspended when he promised to leave Massachusetts immediately.

It was promised also that the victim—elderly James W. Kate of Evans rd., Marblehead—would get back the money he lost, $74.

Sgt. John Clifford of the Milk st. station told Judge Elijah Adlow that Albert Hirschberg had a long police record of pickpocket scrapes, that he "lost" his hat in a theater and when Kate tried to help him find it, an accomplice of Hirschberg's stole the wallet.

CASH IN POLICIES, CULT TOLD

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 13 (AP)—Testimony that leaders of the "I Am" movement advised their followers to cash in their insurance policies in view of predicted "cataclysms" was introduced by the government today in the trial of Mrs. Edna W. Ballard and nine others on mail fraud charges.

"In 1934 Mrs. Ballard got to talking about these horrible cataclysms that were due, and told us that the big cataclysm would pop in September, 1936," Mrs. Jane Ferguson, who said she formerly was a teacher of "I Am" classes, testified.

"Mrs. Ballard told of the necessity of cashing insurance policies, and in one case told me to inform one of my students to cash only one of his policies and to keep on paying on another. It didn't have much longer to run."

TALKED OF ST. GERMAIN

Carl Pierce, a Hollywood business man who testified he first met the late Guy W. Ballard, founder of the "I Am" movement in Chicago in 1923, said both of them came to Los Angeles in 1928.

"He talked a lot about this St. Germain, and one day he told me that he had met him personally several times," Pierce asserted. "He ran across him in Pershing square once, and then up in the Hollywood hills a couple of times."

Ralph Lazarus, assistant U. S. attorney, read to the jury what he said was purported to be Ballard's account of a "supernatural" encounter with St. Germain at Mt. Shasta in California in 1931.

QUOTES PASSAGES

The passage was from the "I Am" book, "Unveiled Mystery." It read: "I had a cup in my hand to take a drink. As I stooped over, an electric current seemed to run through my being. I turned and saw behind me a young man of wonderful countenance. He had a cup in his hand and he gave me a drink, most delicious and soothing. He said:

"What you drank comes from our universal supply. I have only to hold out my hand and wish for gold and here it is."

Quakes Shake Wales As Nazi Bombs Fall

LONDON, Dec. 13 (INS)—Earth tremors lasting 43 seconds struck the Carmarthen and Anglesey areas in the Northwestern corner of Wales during the night. No damage or casualties had yet been reported in information reaching London early today.

The tremors occurred while German night raiders were bombing various parts of Britain, including Wales.

Parkman Quits, Act Stirs Row

Legal and political circles split, Jr., of his name for consideration as a $5000 a year legal aide in the withdrawal by Henry Parkman, War Department.

Democrats, headed by U. S. Senator David I. Walsh and State Committee Chairman William H. Burke, Jr., generally hailed termination of what would have been the first federal appointment in this state since the November election.

ANTI-NEW DEALER

Parkman, Republican aspirant for the Senate, was termed a bitter anti-New Deal campaigner by Chairman Burke in a protest to President Roosevelt. Senator Walsh, his opponent, stumped for the New Deal and was re-elected. While the Republican lawyer and former Boston Corporation counsel headed back for Boston by train from Washington after his withdrawal, his sponsor, Dean James M. Landis of Harvard Law School, expressed astonishment at the turn of events.

"My own impression of Henry Parkman is, first, that he is a good lawyer, and second, that he is an American, and the Federal service needs a combination of those qualities without regard to partisan politics."

HE FILLS BILL

"When I recommend a man for a legal position, I recommend one I believe highly qualified. Mr. Parkman filled the bill," declared Dean Landis, a prominent New Dealer.

Senator Walsh was not available for comment but, Chairman Burke said:

"I am pleased that Senator Walsh joined with me in my protest."

One reason given by the War Department in seeking Parkman was to procure lawyers, "particularly lawyers with experience in drafting complicated legal documents."

THE PLEDGE given by representatives of the major branches of organized labor in the United States to exhaust all mediation machinery before resorting to strikes in defense industries is most commendable.

It is to be hoped these "representatives" can fulfil their commitments in behalf of labor.

Recourse to mediation in preference to strikes has much wider merit than is to be found in this specific application.

If it is beneficial to the whole country, to its industries and labor and the people generally, to adjust differences by reasonable mediation instead of by strikes and violence, why should such desirable processes be limited to defense industries?

Why do we not apply these admittedly beneficial processes to all relations between labor and industry, and thus maintain the same advantages of uninterrupted production and pay in every field of national endeavor?

Mr. Sidney Hillman, member of the National Defense Advisory Commission in charge of labor relations, says:

"Labor again reaffirms its assurance of co-operation with the national defense program and further pledges itself to take no action which may in any way impede production before all conciliation facilities of the Federal Government for resolving any existing controversy have been exhausted."

That is an admirable statement of an admirable principle.

It encourages the hope that American labor and industry will discover how advantageously and profitably our national life can be conducted without economic violence, and ultimately adapt that profitable system to all our fields of enterprise.

CONSCRIPTION continues to receive Congressional attention, notably that of Senator Edwin C. Johnson of Colorado.

The draft is the nation's law and it is therefore entitled to the respect of every American citizen so long as it remains on the statute books, the Senator declares.

But, he points out, the peacetime conscript army will cost A BILLION DOLLARS a year—the exact total of all of the assessed valuation of the private property in his home State.

"This money," Senator Johnson then says, "would provide ten first-class battleships or a fleet of 200 destroyers or 150 submarines a year. In ten years' time such an annual expenditure would give us a Navy stronger than all of the combined navies of the world. Or it would build each year 4000 flying fortresses, the popular name of our 20-ton, four-engined bombers, the most destructive weapon ever devised by man . . . Or it would construct 20,000 of the finest pursuit planes yet conceived by our research laboratories.

"Instead of putting every idle man to work producing armaments, we waste our manpower by training the finest potential industrial army ever to tread this earth, not in the production of armaments but in the use of obsolete military weapons.

"Instead of putting a million men to work manufacturing munitions and the modern weapons of war when democracy is threatened for a lack of these things, we waste their time and our treasure with fatigue marches, bayonet practice and military drills."

What does the Senator think of the democratic Swiss method of general military training?

And will he not admit that if it were the law of the land, the United States might have BOTH the weapons he mentions and a more than adequate number of men to handle them?

THE AIRPLANE occupies a conspicuous place in the news and public mind because of its use in the European war.

Destruction of cities by showers of explosives from Messerschmitts, Blenheims and other winged arsenals has caused millions abroad to regard the Wright brothers' wonderful invention as a kind of super-Frankenstein monster.

This is unfortunate.

The airplane is properly an instrument of peace and progress. Convincing proof of this may be seen in the record of American Airlines, Inc.

Thirteen years ago, on April 1, 1927, this air transport company carried its first revenue passenger.

In the succeeding ten years the company carried one million additional passengers.

But in the comparatively short period of two years and seven months, between February 16, 1937, and September 26, 1939, it carried its SECOND MILLION.

Then, in the even shorter period of one year—September 26, 1939, to December 10, 1940, it carried its THIRD MILLION.

Here in the United States the airplane is justifying the hopes of its creators and promoting the general happiness and prosperity.

And, unless we miss our guess, it will not be long before American Airlines announces the transportation of its FOURTH MILLION passengers.

WHICH Thanksgiving Day did you celebrate? I thought it best to be neutral so celebrated both. On one we had turkey, the other duck. Sir, do you do the carving at your house? I don't at mine. I don't know how to carve. But I am getting tired of having this deficiency in my education cast up to me. I am going to take lessons in carving. I expect to make my debut as a carver on Christmas Day. That will be just carving for the family. Three weeks later I expect to carve before guests. That will be really something.

DON EDMOND, expert in the matter of making women better looking, tells girls to take breathing lessons. He claims a woman who breathes correctly will stay as beautiful as Toby Wing. A trainer once told me if a man took 12 deep breaths daily, holding his breath a minute each time, he could thus develop a marvelous endurance. I haven't tried this yet but I may. MANY PEOPLE seem to be finding the collecting of quaint postmarks quite a source of innocent merriment. Three most popular combinations among postmark collectors are: 1. Faith, S. D.; Hope, Ind.; and Charity, Mo.; 2. Ace, Tex.; King, Neb.; Queen, Pa.; Jack, Mo.; 3. Adam, W. Va.; Eve, Ky.; Garden, Mich.; Eden, Wis. . . . British freely admit damage done by Nazi bombers. Germans are more secretive about raids on Germany. Has now been revealed via Rome that one British bombing raid on Berlin resulted in twenty-eight hundred and seventy-one casualties; more than double that in any Nazi raid on London.

MY DAY

NEW YORK, Thursday — It seemed to me that I visited a great many "sales" yesterday, and each one had attractive things. I find this kind of Christmas buying doubly nice, because I give myself an added pleasure in choosing something I hope a friend will enjoy and, at the same time, help some charity.

First, I visited the Czecho-Slovakian shop, and fell in love with their dolls on horseback. The horses are really delightful. They urged me to come to their work rooms where the women make these horses. I was told they looked even more attractive in their semi-finished state!

In response to a rather stern letter, I finally screwed up my courage to find the Southern Highlanders at 610 Fifth ave. For some reason I had made up my mind that I would wander through miles of corridors and had the feeling that it would take me a long while to find them. Instead, I discovered that when I walked in from the street, I was surrounded by familiar pieces of handcraft work from all the best centers in the South and the mountain regions.

I WENT ALSO to the Green-which House Pottery Shop and there I fell a victim to one of their "creches." The little glazed figures in a wooden shelter should be a permanent ornament under anyone's Christmas tree. Perhaps they may serve as an everlasting reminder that this Christmas season is not just a matter of gifts, but has something to do with the renewal of the spirit of love in the world.

I rather hope that, instead of my presenting this to somebody else, the family will agree to present it to me for a perpetual decoration under our own Christmas tree. Nothing like choosing one's own Christmas present!

I received a letter yesterday from Commander Stauffer of the Philadelphia County Council of the American Legion, reminding me that Sunday, Dec. 15, will mark the 149th anniversary of the ratification of the Bill of Rights in our Constitution, and that at this particular time, every one of us should reread those ten articles and ponder on what they mean. They are perhaps the epitome of the difference between our own philosophy and the totaliarian one. Commander Stauffer makes the suggestion that we should ask Congress to make the 150th anniversary next year, a national holiday. Perhaps enough people will feel that this is important and make the suggestion to their own congressmen.

I am going this morning to the sale for the blind and to do one or two other errands, before attending the opera this afternoon.

MYRNA LOY HELPS
YOUNG PIANIST
By Leonard Lyons

NEW YORK, Dec. 13—Set Kaplan is the young pianist who won the critics' praises when he performed at Carnegie Hall last season. Two days before his premiere there Kaplan started the town for a pupil to whom he could give a piano lesson, so that he could buy a ticket to hear Horowitz play at Carnegie. . . . He has shown so much talent that his family spent all their available fortune to further his career. . . . Kaplan now is in Hollywood, where his playing impressed Jerome Kern, Robert Montgomery and Myrna Loy—who agreed to sponsor his performance at the Philharmonic. And so, to raise the necessary funds, at the weekly poker games of the Hoyle Club—in which the players are Kern, Ira Gershwin, Marc Connelly, George Haight and Howard Benedict—a kitty is cut from each winning pot to sponsor the promising pianist.

RELIEF: Dorothy Parker, who was operated upon at the Cedars of Lebanon last month, spoke to Allen Campbell, her husband, before being wheeled into the operating room. . . . "I just remembered," said Campbell, "this means you won't be able to address next week's dinner given by the Writers' Committee." . . . "That," said Dorothy as the internes wheeled her away, "is the silver lining to my appendix."

LABOR: Donald Ogden Stewart attended a Hollywood luncheon and was seated against the wall next to Leland Hayward, the agent. . . . When Stewart left to return to his office he had to clamber over Hayward's chair on the aisle. "This is as pretty a piece of symbolism as you'll ever see," said Stewart, "—a writer climbing over his agent's body to get to work."

DOROTHY PARKER

SUCCESSOR: Last week Robert E. Sherwood was the principal speaker at the Harmonie Club. Just before he was to make his address Sherwood became ill. . . . Among the guests were Dr. Emanuel Libman, the world-famous clinician, and Dean Winternitz of Yale University. The two distinguished doctors took Sherwood into another room and diagnosed his ailment as an acute, neuralgic headache, for which a sedative was required. . . . Dr. Libman, who is a consultant and so hasn't written a prescription in many years, had no prescription blank, nor did Dean Winternitz carry any. And neither of them could remember their Federal registration numbers, which may be used in cases where prescription blanks are not available. . . . But Sherwood recovered and made his speech.

LAMENT: Biff Jones, who coaches the Nebraska football team, never has seen the Stanford team, his Rose Bowl opponents, play. Stanford uses the T formation—the same employed by the Chicago Bears. And so he flew to Washington last Sunday to watch the Redskins' defense against Chicago's T formation. . . . Jones was stunned as he saw the Bears' 73-0 triumph. . . . "Well, Biff, what do you think now?" Jones was asked. . . . "I think," he sighed, "that we'd better call off the Rose Bowl game."

ATONEMENT: Ben Hecht, who is the highest priced writer in America today, received an attractive offer from MGM. . . . Before contracts were to be signed, Hecht was invited to the office of L. B. Mayer. . . . "I want you to apologize," said Mayer, "for that poem you wrote about me three years ago. Otherwise the deal is off." . . . Hecht refused—contract never was signed.

AMITY: The importance of preserving good will relations with Latin America is beginning to affect the usual stunts connected with the college proms. C. C. N. Y., therefore, will have two Senior Prom Queens at the dance next week. Rosita Rios has been selected to be co-Queen with Jane Fickens. And Rafael de la Colina, the Mexican Consul General here, will do the crowning.

JEWELS: One of the committee members sponsoring the Star Spangled Ball told her husband that she wanted some special adornments for the event at the Astor Dec. 20. . . . "Do you want a diamond or an emerald?" he asked. . . . "An emerald—because emeralds are rarer," she replied. "Emeralds always match the eyes of the wearer's friends."

BOSTON
After DARK
By GEORGE HOLLAND

KAY KYSER CERTAINLY FUMBLER THE BALL in getting a question about Boston College answered on his musical-quizz program. . . . The song which was identified as the Boston College anthem wasn't and the answer accepted as correct gave the lyrics a nickname as the Terrors.

PUBLICATION OF HITLER'S telephone number saw a flurry of betting on all combinations of the six digits in the number pool. . . . Phil Stevenson, press agent of "Life With Father," declares that the show is celebrating its 11th week in Boston coincident with the 11th taking up of Huntington ave. since the hit comedy bowed in at the Repertory.

DOROTHY GISH, who plays Mother Day in "Life With Father," really enjoys Boston. . . . She has resisted successfully a stunt planned by the management which would have brought Dorothy's equally famous sister, Lillian, to Boston while Dorothy journeyed to Chicago. . . . The Gish sisters play the role of the mother of the red-haired Day kids in the Chicago and Boston companies of the first authentic million-dollar hit since "Tobacco Road."

"JARRIN' JOHN" KIMBROUGH may appear on the roster of the Boston Bears next season, in spite of what we hear from New York. . . . Sheldon H. Fairbanks, owner of the Boston Bears, and Coach Jack McBride of the New York Yankees, both talked business with Tommy Hammon, whose pro status is established. . . . With Kimbrough, who was grounded in Washington for a time, but whose appearance in New York today was certain, the situation is different. . . . The Kimbrough visit will serve to have him meet the New York and Boston A. L. bosses. . . . But they can't "proselyte" by discussing offers until after the Cotton Bowl game, in which "Jarrin' John" will play.

ONCE OVER LIGHTLY: Audrey Christie, the attractive "meaneat" of "Hi-Ya Gentlemen," must be added to those who love this, our fair city. . . . Audrey's great ability was a secret to Boston critics and theater-goers until "Hi-Ya Gentlemen" played here. . . . In "Return Engagement" at the Copley recently she was in a poor part. . . . The biggest hit Audrey scored was in "Sailor, Beware," which wasn't permitted to come to Boston. . . . (A musicalization of the assertedly risqué comedy played here last year, however. . . . "Nice Goin'" it was called.

TAM J. FOO, known to Chinatown as "King" and to tourists in the district as Ruby Foo's husband, will be buried Sunday. . . . Revered by his own people and respected by the few strangers who got to know him, "King" Foo will be honored by one of the most elaborate funerals in the history of Chinatown. . . . Among those present will be Henderson Foo, a brother of the deceased. . . . It was not known generally that the courageous Henderson, who was shot by a holdup man while he protected the receipts of Ruby's den one night in November, was "King" Foo's brother. . . . He has been hospitalized since, but will attend his brother's funeral in a wheel-chair.

IN SPITE OF WHAT Huntington R. "Tack" Hardwick calls the young man's "unfortunate background, Newt Perry of St. Mark's and Yale (note: Mr. Hardwick is of Groton and Harvard) should be delighted to hear

AUDREY CHRISTIE

DOROTHY GISH

Stage Stars Really Enjoy Boston that the same Mr. Hardwick is doing an extravagant job of press-agenting Mr. Perry, who is a fast-climbing young band leader. . . . Mr. Hardwick is not much of a jester, preferring the wilds of Maine and the fishing around Bimini and Cat Cay to the pleasures of a ballroom floor.

THE STORY IS THAT a certain I. Newton Perry, Sr., also a St. Mark's-Yale alumnus, was Tack's partner in the ownership of the Chicago Blackhawks, and his great friend—to boot. . . . The Newt Perry playing at the Raymore is that Perry's son. . . . And the youth has assembled a truly first-rate band. . . . Here is a "society" orchestra, incidentally, which doesn't mention it.

JOAN BENNETT IN FILM WITH BRENT
By Louella O. Parsons

Joan Bennett

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 12—I told Joan Bennett today that she was going to star with George Brent in "We Live Nowhere" at Columbia. She said, "and I said, 'I hope I don't lose it.' I read the story and I said, 'I hope I don't lose it.' It was true and I said she would do it. I said before 'A Girl's Best Friend' is real. I said, 'How did you find it?' she said, 'I said that was a lot of talking, but anyway I don't know.' I said, 'I hope I don't lose it.' When I saw the production after the New York trial, and George Brent came in at Columbia to star in this drama by Charles Bennett, what is a story and, according to Joan, a real winner.

BINNIE BARNES

Joan liked the story so much that she is delighted that she is to play the female lead and she is also pleased that George Brent, one of our better actors is to have the top male role. A nice movie combination — Joan and George.

I AM awfully glad that Binnie Barnes has made up her mind to play Mrs. Valentine in "Skylark." Mrs. V. is the vamp who tries to steal both Claudette Colbert's husband and her cock. While we were on tour Paramount was wiring Binnie but she didn't make up her mind until she read the script—and that she has done in Palm Springs.

NORMA SHEARER leaves the 21st for Sun Valley with her children to spend Christmas. The Darryl Zanuck are also planning to go to the snow country with their three to have a white Christmas. Norma told me that she goes on the Arch Oboler program the 20th and will turn over the proceeds to the "Bundles for Britain." Her last picture for M-G-M is "Tonight At 8:30" and Sidney Franklin has taken "We Were Dancing." "Wage and Means" and combined them in the story, "Shadow Play," another of the Coward plays, will be written into a broadcast which she will probably do for charity.

MAY ROBSON has more pep than any girl in Hollywood and as I write this "Muzzy May" is on her way to Santa Fe, New Mexico, for the "Santa Fe Trail" premiere. Last year she was the bit of the trip on the "Virginia City" trek and, in spite of her 75 years, had more fun than any of the glamour girls and boys. When she gets back from the New Mexico shindig, May goes to work at Warners in "30 Days Hath September," a human interest comedy of the type La Robson does so well.

CHATTER IN HOLLYWOOD: Just to keep the record straight and not to have any more rumors, Ann Sheridan did not marry George Brent in Mexico—or any other place. George Raft, who was also suspended by Warners, although now his option has been taken up, suggested that he and Ann do a picture called "The Suspended Kid." I have an idea that Ann and Warners will get together, although neither will move first.

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD: Astrid Allwyn gets her final divorce decree from Robert Kent today, Friday the 13th. She also undergoes a minor operation; the Johnny Weissmullers had a reunion dinner at Sardi's before they went to Santa Fe; James Fitzpatrick (the travel genius) welcomed an eight pound daughter today; Randy Scott will stop off at Mayo Brothers on his way East for a general check up.

ROZ RUSSELL is tearing herself away from Freddie Brisson to spend the holidays with her family in Connecticut; Katherine Aldridge and John Swope a dinner; twosome; Aline Judge has been on salary at 26th Century-Fox since November so the chances are she will make a movie there; Ann and Artie Siebels celebrated five years of married life with a cocktail and dinner party.

MRS. CHICO MARK is so slender she looks like a glamour girl since she and Chico parted; Lige Velaz has been paid by Sigmund for the lead in "The Zeroed Toldies of 1941"; Judy Garland goes to New York for two weeks after Christmas. Her romance with Dave Rose continues to look serious; George Marston has lost his heart to little Ann Rutherford. Well, so did another very well known actor—and you would be surprised if you knew his name.

Sh-h! It's Friday 13th! Goblins'll Getcha If---

Before him on the sidewalk was a black cat, and a few paces away was a raised ladder.

With his fingers crossed, he sidled over to the other side of the street and glancing surreptitiously at the ladder and cat, passed on.

He was Old Man Superstition, and, according to legends that have their origin even in the dawn of history, he comes out doubly cautious and fearful on Friday 13th—which is today.

However, there are those redoubtable citizens who point out that some of the luckiest events were recorded on Friday, the 13th, among them the start of Columbus voyage from Palos.

TROUPERS IN TRIBUTE TO DEATH

The noisy whirl of a burlesque company backstage was stilled today in respect for a courageous girl who died far from her family in Ireland and a gallant dancer who risked her own health with blood transfusions which proved in vain.

Vera Clarke, who left her brother two years ago to come here as a gay and light-hearted immigrant, died penniless and alone at the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary.

Her roommate and best friend, Patricia Callahan, twice gave blood to combat mastoiditis, but was helpless, as the uneven battle brought death to the little chorus girl.

Today Patricia was back on the boards, grinning through makeup at crowds who little realized that, for a broken-hearted trouper, the "show must go on."

Many Pay Last Tribute to Tague's Wife

St. Mary's Church, Charlestown, was thronged today at funeral services of Mrs. Josephine T. Tague, wife of Postmaster Peter F. Tague. Mrs. Tague died Wednesday at her home, 21 Monument sq., Charlestown.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Robert P. Barry, pastor of St. Clement's Church, Somerville, and more than 25 priests occupied seats in the sanctuary during the services.

A solemn high mass of requiem was sung by the pastor, the Rev. Frederick J. Alchin, with the Rev. Ralph W. Farrell, chaplain of the State Prison at Charlestown, as deacon, and the Rev. Francis A. McLaughlin, sub deacon.

Mayor Tobin, former Governor Curley, Chief Justice John P. Higgins of Suffolk Court, Police Commr. Timothy, Congressman Arthur D. Healey, former Mayor Frederick W. Mansfield, Fire Chief Samuel J. Pope, Asst. U. S. Atty. William T. McCarthy, Judge Charles S. Sullivan of the Charlestown Court and many postoffice officials attended. Burial was in Holy Cross Cemetery, Malden.

College Loans Urged by State

Massachusetts youth—the studious, the ambitious or the unemployed—found a friend today in the State Department of Education.

In a 400-page survey and report, the department's Youth Study Commission recommended loans to those seeking college training, loans and enlarged teacher's college curricula for the majority intent on business training, and local planning and placement bureaus to solve the jobless problem.

From interviews with 8000 boys and girls between 16 and 22, and questionnaires from 3000 more taking university extension courses, the commission declared its most pressing problem is furnishing business training to the 80 per cent now anxious to train for a job.

The 462-ton Berkshire was coming from Boston. The 2351-ton Charles L. O'Connor left here two hours before the mishap for Norfolk, Va.

TINY BABY TO LIVE

CUSHING, Okla., Dec. 13 (AP)—David Humphrey Parker, weighing 1½ pounds at five days of age, is being kept alive in a home made incubator, heated by electric light bulbs. The child, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Parker, was given a good chance to survive.

MATA HARI'S Daughter

MAURICE DEKOBRA LEVYA GEORGIE

"JUST KEEP them up there matey!" said a new voice and over Vaslav's shoulder there appeared the broad, beefy countenance of a London constable.

Behind the constable came Sir John, then two other men in civilian clothes with a sullen, handcuffed prisoner between them. The operator of the balcony spotlight.

The constable whipped out another pair of handcuffs and snapped them on Vaslav. He submitted im-passively.

Sir John turned to the constable.
"Clear these people out," he said.
I want to talk to this man—now."

He waited until the members of the ballet and stagehands had been herded to the other side of the set.
Then he addressed Vaslav.

"Well, Prince Yenidof," he said,
"It appears you have lost all this way around. I don't mind telling you that we have your house surrounded, and that by this time your gang of subordinate spies are in custody."

"Quite sure, Colonel Sanderson?" asked Vaslav.

"Quite!" said Sir John. "That room in the basement was very cleverly hidden, but it was not proof against tear gas. I suppose you realize the penalty which you and your fellow espionage agent—face."

Vaslav returned his look without trepidation.

"I knew the penalty for spying,
if that is what you mean, Colonel.
But I have no idea whatever that I shall suffer it."

"And why not?" asked Sanderson, his face grim.

"Because, my good Colonel, I am far too valuable to you alive. You know as well as I that, in my position, I can give you secrets regarding the enemy that are of much more importance to you than my trivial existence."

Sir John made a gesture of distaste.

"And you are prepared to do so?"

"CAPABLE OF LOVE"

"Of course," said Vaslav with a shrug. "After all, I am not a German, even though the Bolshevik revolution led to my being reared as one. I have played for big stakes, Col. Sanderson. I have played for a chance that in this cataclysm of Europe—this force of war where nations are being mashed and crushed—I am not only able to regain the throne to which I am entitled by birth."

"You mean the Russian throne?"
asked Sir John unbelievably.

"Why not? Hitler was only a house-painter. Mussolini is the son of a laborer. And I am not only a prince of the blood royal but more unscrupulous and intelligent than either of them."

"You do not seem to have fared as well," said Sir John drily.

"True. It seems I have a weakness . . . a weakness that I myself discovered only recently." Over Sanderson's shoulder, Vaslav looked longingly at Bulova, his dark eyes mountain. "It seems that I am capable of love." He drew a deep breath. "But let that pass. I have told you what I am willing to do.
Is it a bargain?"

Sanderson studied Vaslav's face carefully, methodically, estimating his man.

"Very well," he said finally. "As you say, your life means nothing to me; your knowledge of the enemy's plans means everything.
But you must keep your bargain.
Will you answer my questions?"

"Why not?" Vaslav again said.
"After all, I have nothing to lose
. . . and I am really rather fond of England. You know, Colonel, I have some dear relatives here—in quite exalted places."

mistook him for an injured Englishman and drove him into London. He was just getting out of here when Capt. Kenley happened along. He suspected Schleicher and questioned him, Schleicher, who was also known under the name of Larsen, Bradstreet and other aliases, killed him to save himself."

"Where is this man of many aliases?" demanded Sanderson.

"I presume your men captured him aboard the Vandam. You said they caught everyone, did you not?"

"Yes," answered St. John. "And now another question: Who stabbed me at Lord Mountwyn's?"

"The same Baron von Schleicher," said Vaslav, smiling. "And I really must apologize. But you see he made the stupid mistake of giving Lord Mountwyn my actual card instead of a fictitious one that we had prepared for him. We wanted to see whether he would give it to you. He did, thereby disqualifying himself as our friend. However, it was necessary to get the code back—so I made up the little dodge about the blackout dance, and the baron did the rest. As you know, he fell victim to you and your needs."

"I see," said Sir John. "I rather thought it was something like that.
Now question three: Who murdered my agent—Mara—and arranged for her body to be delivered at my door?"

"That was Agent Mueller," said Vaslav. "Though it is possible I gave him the suggestion. She was becoming troublesome. Leaving the body at your door was my own idea. I wanted to discourage your need from practicing espionage."

Friday the 13th Holds No Woes For This Baby

MINNEAPOLIS, Dec. 13 (AP)—On this Friday, the 13th, little Shirley Johnson has more 13's than you can shake a jinx at.

It was on Friday, the 13th, that Mrs. Johnson took out a hospitalization policy in January, 1939.

Shirley was born on Friday, the 13th of September, 1940.

She was born at 1 a. m., which appears as the 13th hour in some time reckonings.

She weighed 7 pounds 13 ounces at birth. Today she is 13 weeks old and weighs exactly 13 pounds.

DR. LOWELL 84 TODAY

Dr. A. Lawrence Lowell, president emeritus of Harvard University, today observed his 84th birthday.

Economical Meat Loaf Solves Problem

By MARTHA LEE

MEATS NEEDN'T be expensive to get a big hand from the family. You can stuff an economical meat loaf, for example, and get as much applause as for a costlier cut.

You may like to vary the flavor of meat loaf by combining two of three kinds of ground meat—lamb, pork and beef.

SAVORY MEAT LOAF

- 1 lb. lamb
- 1 lb. pork
- 1 lb. beef
- Salt and pepper
- 2 eggs

Stuffing: Season the meat with salt and pepper and blend with eggs. Pat the entire amount of meat into a thin square, of a length that will fit your baking pan, on a sheet of waxed paper. Have prepared a stuffing—perhaps your own favorite with the rich accent of chopped or sliced ripe olives to further distinguish it. Or prepare a combination of toasted bread cubes seasoned to taste with onion, minced parsley, salt, pepper, egg chopped or sliced ripe olives and a moistening of soup stock or water.

Blend the stuffing thoroughly and spread over the square of meat. Roll up, place in an oiled pan and trim with a row of whole olives down the center of the loaf. Brush top and sides of loaf with oil. Bake in a moderate oven of 350 deg. F. until nicely browned and tender. The time will approximate two hours for the above amount of meat. Serve plain or with a hot tomato sauce.

TOMATO SAUCE

2 cups canned or sliced fresh tomatoes

- 1 bay leaf
- 4 cloves
- 2 slices onion
- 1 tsp. sugar
- 1 tsp. parsley
- 1/4 tsp. celery salt
- 2 tsp. butter
- 2 tsp. flour
- 1/2 tsp. salt

Cook tomatoes, bay leaf, cloves, onion, sugar, parsley, peppercorns, and celery salt in 1-quart saucepan over medium heat 10 minutes. Rub through a sieve. Melt butter in small saucepan, and stir in flour and salt. When well blended, add tomato puree, stirring constantly over low heat until mixture thickens and boils. Serve with meat loaf, croquettes, or timbales. Makes about 1 cup of sauce.

BREAD STUFFING

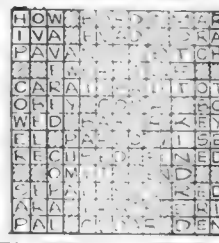

- 4 cups bread cubes, toasted
- 1/2 cup butter
- 1/2 cup poultry seasoning
- 1/2 cup minced butter or chicken fat
- 2 1/4 salt
- 1/2 cup parsley leaves, egg
- 1/2 cup onion, minced
- 1/2 cup boiling water

Mix ingredients together lightly and binding thoroughly. For a dry

Gargle LISTERINE Antiseptic

At the first symptom of a cold, gargle often with Listerine Antiseptic. It treats a cold for what it is—a local infection aggravated by germs. Kills germs by millions on surface tissues. The prompt use of Listerine Antiseptic may head off a troublesome cold or an irritating sore throat.

Listen, World!

-- By Elsie Robinson

IT'S STILL NIGHT—for you. The city noises fade to whispers, far and faint. Beyond the house, a little night breeze rattles and is still. Slowly a white sea rises, blooms above the hill. You stand in bed, half conscious of the deep, ending peace. Then, one note, sink in sleep.

It's still tonight, you say. But for uncounted millions of heads, every night is hell. They lie in agony, in pain, in sleep. They work, in stumbling flesh, beneath the pain and scorch of bombs. They do not laugh or burst a streak of a reward.

They only know they must go on, and on . . . to serve their race.

They only know that freedom is at stake and they must stand on guard. So quietly, they put aside their private dreams—and work.

Today I received a note written by such a man. An English business man whose serving without thought of gain or fame. Who's asking death at every step he takes for other men may live.

He'll never know a medal, this plain man. He has no title in the world's books. And yet I thank our friend's far-fung plan for electricity well rest on his bent shoulders and as calmed hands.

IT'S STILL for you tonight. It's hell for him. Think of his labor as you sink to sleep. Read this—and thank.

DEAR BRAD—

Write in the middle of the bombing—at least I hope we are. Last night I put out eleven incendiary bombs myself . . . helped put out a fire . . . evacuated the residents of a block of apartments near to which a large time bomb had dropped . . . ordered bloody fools to move their mezzos from danger zones . . . lost my temper over the helplessness of child-hood grown men . . . made a for 16 poor devils who'd had a dud hit and were all who were left . . . conceived a crying baby that it might as well shut up and wait for the mother who'd gone home. None of it very spectacular but someone has to do it.

The blasted Jerries are dropping bombs all about us, although this quiet little place is two miles from any military objective. We are ringed around with fires . . . Old London is getting knocked about a bit and there are many pitiful things as well as many grand ones.

You see and hear things that amaze you . . . proof of the marvelous spirit that exists under the most unlikely exterior, lives offered up as simply as one would serve a cup of tea. Yet no one thinks of such sacrifices as remarkable. It is simply up to us to take it in our stride, and we do.

Yes! DON'T talk much about it but thoughts are pretty hard. It can't be much fun for the five service, working like slaves every night under the constant bombing. Yet you'll hear more grim jokes around them pumps than you will in the safest home today.

It can't be much fun for the men and women people or the demolition experts and rescue parties who have to dig the dead and dying out of ruins, but they go it every night and the bomb has hardly finished exploding before they are on the job.

It's still up to the R. A. F. and will be until we have complete mastery of the air. That is why we are so patient for the planes you're so keen. We want out need more and more.

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I am 23 years old, my husband is 2 and we've been married six years and have a darling baby. I love my husband with all my heart and know he loves me. He is so good to us when he stays home, but as soon as he goes out he drinks and then doesn't come back until the next day. Never tells me where he has been and says it's none of my business. When he sobers up, he is terribly sorry and says it won't happen again and that he loves only me. So I forgive him.

Then in a couple of weeks he does the same thing. He tells me he's going to play pool and will be back in an hour, but it's usually next day. What can I do to make him stop this drinking? I love him and hate to lose him.

L. F.
It's pretty difficult to get a man, such as you describe, over the habit of drinking, because he doesn't admit his weakness. Doubtless he persuades himself that he is going to play pool when he goes out, and winds up after a 24 hour spree, contrite and full of promises. The majority of alcoholic cures are those where a man admits his weakness and wants to get the better of it. Thousands of such cures have been affected through the organization known as Alcoholics Anonymous. I will be glad to send you the address of the main office if you will send me a self-addressed, three-cent stamped envelope.

Hubby Has No Sentiment

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I am 33 years old, married and have four children. I wouldn't have married when I did, but home conditions were intolerable. We had a mean stepfather, weren't allowed to have friends come in, and it was impossible to make any friends outside. We always had to be home by 9:30.

I married a man who is 15 years older than myself. His idea of married life is that a kind word or a little sentiment is a waste of time. When he's home, he never has anything to say; he just reads the evening paper and listens to the radio. I am so lonesome that I don't know what to do. The children are really too young to be much company.

LONESOME.

When conditions are such as you describe you must try to take an interest in some casual occupation or diversion, even if it's only a passing fancy or a hobby.

Have you ever thought of taking a course in adult education or vocational training? Your superintendent of schools can tell you what is open to you in your neighborhood. You can fit yourself for a job, and perhaps later on, when the children are able to take care of themselves, you can secure employment.

Write me a letter, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope and I will answer personally.

Why Not Try Patience

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

We've been married four years. I'm 23 and my wife is 21. My wife has left me three times, expecting to sue for divorce, but I persuaded her to return and we make another try at living together.

Every time she went away, I tried going out with other girls to forget about her, but never got any kick out of it. Now she has left me for the fourth time, but I'm not going to ask her to come back, unless she comes of her own free will. It's too hard on me to go through with it. And if she wants a divorce I won't stand in her way, even though it means I can't marry again.

I know time is a great healer of a broken heart, but goodness, how slow it is!

UNHAPPY.

If you would both realize that life is not a novel, a movie or a fairy story, but a companionship, the responsibilities of which each must share equally, I think you would get along better. Evidently you love your wife very dearly. Why don't you give it one more trial, and each try to acquire a little more patience?

Boy May Be Conceited

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

We've known each other only a short time, and he has taken me out several times. I really am fond of this boy. He often came to the house for an evening of bridge and a supper afterwards, and he seemed to enjoy himself.

The last time he came over, he had to leave for a short time to do an errand, but he came back. Since then he hasn't been around any more. I can't understand what happened.

MARIAN.
He is very popular with girls, but he seems unaware of them. At one dance several girls seemed to chase him all evening. I've heard if a boy gets a notion you are after him he is through with you. Is that what happened in my case?

The girls who "seemed to chase him" may have made him conceited and perhaps he's unable to decide on which of the many to choose.

You've known him only a few weeks. From your letter, which was too long to print in its entirety, you have given me the impression that you rushed him a bit too hard. Suppose you wait a while before you invite him again to come for supper and cards.

You Can Be Beautiful

Two Diets Offered to You

By ARLINE GOULD

WE'RE GREAT ones for that "ounce of prevention" stuff when it comes to beauty problems . . . like never giving blackheads a chance to settle in your pores, but getting at 'em before winter soot does its worst. And now we have your figure on our editorial conscience . . . because the great holidays are almost upon us.

Of course, you may have your turkey then and rue it later . . . but there's no reason why you can't enjoy the festive bird as much as Uncle Henry who eats such a quantity that he falls asleep over the plum pudding, and you can do it without overstuffing yourself and adding another inch to your hip measure!

You can do it by disciplining yourself with our marvelous three-day liquid diet . . . and then following it up with the Hollywood 5-day diet . . . for these two make an unbeatable pair. I reduce! At the same time, you're kept fit.

And if you want to have a merry, effulgent Christmas and New Year's you still can . . . though you'll discover to your pride and joy that you won't be able to put away a stevedore-size dinner, because the two diets have disciplined your tummy.

It will demand less, though your system is satisfied in all its needs . . . this is no cracker and water, or banana and milk diet. You could sit down at a grooming table and choose from it those ingredients suggested by the diet which will give you energy, zest and second-look slim curves . . . and it would be a wonderful dinner!

As a starter, the 3-day liquid diet adjusts your system to the smaller rations of the Hollywood 5-day diet . . . and it also sweeps your system very clear, and makes your eyes shining bright.

We've paired these two as a sure way to help you achieve your figure ambitions . . . and if you go about it the smart, modern way you'll do three things in moderation: to reduce . . . a little diet, a little exercise, and a little massage on spots . . . and there you go, Aphrodite!

For your copy of these two diets—3-day liquid and 5-day Hollywood—write Arline Gould, Boston Evening American, and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Birthday Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Friday, Dec. 13

IF TODAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY—You of this birthdate are probably quite handsome, with an appearance of buoyant fitness and a very frank manner. Will act courageously nine times out of ten, but under long deliberation are likely to be too timid. Deeply sympathetic; especially suited for teaching, leading reform movements or a religious life. Must learn to relax properly. Look out for indecisiveness and wasting time over non-essentials! Be up and doing, constructively so.

LUCKY NUMBER—Today's lucky number is 8.

LUCKY COLOR—Today's lucky color is shell pink.

Send 15 cents and large self-addressed stamped envelope to Frances Drake, Boston Evening American, Box 2224, Boston, for an individual horoscope, personal guide and lucky calendar for the last six months of 1940, giving the day and month you were born.

Salad Fork

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

When salad is served on a separate plate with the main course, is it necessary to provide a fork for the salad?

HOSTESS.
This is the best kind of service

Silverware Tip

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

When you have finished a course should you put your knife on your plate, even though you haven't used it?

WONDERING.
It isn't necessary for you to pick up any piece of silver that you have not used. The one who clears the table will remove the unused silverpieces.

Include Husband in Invitation

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

I have a friend who has been married one year this month. As I did not give her a shower before her marriage, I would like very much to have an anniversary for her now. But as my house is quite small, would it be proper to give a luncheon on her anniversary, entertaining a small group of her women friends?

Since the idea of your party is the celebration of the wedding anniversary, it would seem more consistent to have a party that would include the husband of your friend and the husbands of the guests. Why don't you have an evening buffet party? Such a party accommodates a great many guests in a small space. You need home or no service.

Harvard Cast Scores in Farce

The Harvard Dramatic Club last night, at Cambridge's Sanders Theater, gave a highly zealous performance of what it describes as the late William Gillette's "highly tropical farce," "Too Much Johnson."

Gillette, who later became one of the American stage's most distinguished actors, wrote the play in 1894 as a vehicle for himself, appearing in it with some success. He revived it later with considerable box-office satisfaction.

As staged by Theodore L. Squier, Jr., and S. Leonard Kent and acted by the Harvard Dramatic Club cast, it was made clear that there still is life in the 46-year-old farce of mistaken identity.

In case you have forgotten, Gillette's hero, Johnson, owner of a sugar plantation just outside of Santiago, Cuba, is awaiting the arrival of his unknown fiancée, Leona Faddish, as the play opens.

It is one of those arranged things, and who in the interested audience is to tell him that he is in error when he mistakes the desirable Mrs. Augustus Billings for his bride-to-be?

Billings, by the way, has been straying off the reservation in company with a charmer from Cuba. Intrigued, he makes up a name and locale for himself—Johnson of Cuba. He is on his way there when his unsuspecting wife and mother-in-law join him aboard the Cuban S. S. Tropical Queen.

Richard J. Wiechmann and W. Ellis Robinson, as the real and the pseudo Johnson, assisted by Claire Mathew's Mrs. Billings and Claire Johnston's reluctant fiancée, are the principals in the mistaken identity involvements.

They are convincing and likeable throughout, altogether a credit to the traditions of the Harvard Dramatic Club.

Charlotte Armstrong, playing Billings' mother-in-law, rates special mention for a thoroughly competent performance. Deserving of commendation? as well? are Michael Millen, as the fiancée's distracted father, and S. Leonard Kent, the poor girl's put-upon sweetheart.

Others in the capable company are Albert G. Field, John E. Rand, Marshall Durgin, John Turner, George W. Fowler and Donald Fine.

The performance will be repeated tonight and tomorrow evening. P. 11

ANNOUNCEMENTS

You Can Get a $150 LOAN in 24 Hours AND REPAY ONLY $9.56 A MONTH

You can borrow $100 if you can pay back $6.41 a month

You can get a personal loan of $20 to $300 at Household Finance at rates substantially below the lawful maximum—if you can repay in small monthly installments.

Payments to fit your purse

You may choose the most convenient repayment plan from the table below. Suppose that you need $100 and you can readily repay $9.75 a month. Your installment will repay a $100 loan in full in twelve months. Or, if you wish smaller payments, as little as $6.41 a month for twenty months will also repay a $100 loan.

See the sample loans and payment plans in the table. (Loans also made in other amounts and for other periods.) Payments in the table repay everything. Household's rate of 2 1/2% per month on that part of a balance not exceeding $100.

68 SOX FLAG STILL FAR AWAY

By HERB FINNEGAN

FOR BOSTON: Frankie Pytlak, Pete Fox, Joe Dobson and Odell Hale.
 INDEPENDENT BOSTON: Doc Cramer, Jim Bagby, Gene Desautels, Fritz Ostermuelier and Benny Galehouse.

Have the Sox been strengthened by the week's trading and, if so, how much?

Or have they been weakened and, if so, how much?

Getting down to cases, the only players who really amount to anything in the multi-colored transactions are Pytlak, Fox and Bagby.

CRAMER DISSATISFIED

Cramer, a malcontent, will not be needed, especially with Dom DiMaggio in center field. For that matter Fox is a far better team man than Cramer and is several years younger. He'll hit and throw just as well, too.

Desautels, Oty and Galehouse will never be missed.

But Bagby's case is different. Only 21, the son of the old Cleveland Sarge looks like a winning pitcher in any league. He won 15 for the Sox in 1938, his first year up, was released to Little Rock in '39. Last year he won 10 games and lost 16, including many heart-breakers. One, in particular, was a two-hitter to the Cleveland club he now joins.

The long boy has potentialities he hasn't yet realized. Like Cramer, he wasn't happy with the Sox, so perhaps he will blossom forth as a 20-game winner with Cleveland, where his father won 3 games for Tris Speaker's 1920 champions. Bagby and Emerson Dickman looked like the Sox best pitching bets last spring, but the Fenway chiefs figure a disgruntled player is a liability to the club, and so Jim follows the trail of Newsom.

Mr. BOSTON
 By JACK CONWAY

JOE LOUIS recognizes the fact Al McCoy is by far the fastest opponent he has ever been called upon to meet which is why he is practicing with short, thumping punches during his daily workouts at Johnny Buckley's Gym on Friend street.

Julian Black, co-manager of Louis with John Roxborough and wise in the affairs of boxing, told me Louis will have a better chance of catching up with the speedy McCoy if he reduces the length of his blows.

"McCoy has too much speed to be hit by a looping blow such as one could use on a big, slow fellow," said Black. "We have been working to build up Louis' speed. We know that McCoy is a good hitter as well as fast, and so Louis must be prepared to travel at top speed every second he is in the ring."

Louis looks 100 per cent faster today than he did when he started his Boston workouts. When Louis first began throwing blows here in his gym workouts, he was sluggish, while there was little fire in his punches.

Two weeks of intensive training has enabled Louis to speed up and also to increase the power of his blows. As Louis ended his workout yesterday, he looked the part of a real champion.

"Joe has devoted most of his time in the gym to improving his boxing," said Black. "Louis was in good general condition when he first came here, but his boxing was weak. You can now see for yourself that Louis is boxing better than at any time in his ring career. I look for him to knock McCoy out inside of six rounds. I am not predicting a kayo inside of two or three rounds as it is often difficult for Joe to get a healthy sock at a fast fellow like McCoy. You may be sure, though, that the Louis kayo will catch up with McCoy inside of six rounds. You will see a fighting Louis in the ring on Monday night."

"I believe the Louis of today could beat any heavyweight that ever lived."

Black didn't make any exception for John L. Sullivan or Jack Dempsey. I know that if John L. and Dempsey were fighting today, that Louis would meet both of them. Joe Louis has never dodged a worthy opponent which is more than can be said of most champions.

John L. avoided a meeting with Peter Jackson, while Dempsey refused to risk his title against Harry Wills.

As a fighter, Louis has much the same system that was employed by Jack Sharkey. The latter always met the best available opponent. He fought and defeated Harry Wills at a time when neither Dempsey nor Tunney would meet the "Black Menace."

LOUIS PLANS one of the most active campaigns ever engaged in by a champion. If he has his way, he will take part in one fight each month. He will box in every section of the United States.

By coming here to battle McCoy, Louis has helped create new boxing interest in this city. The same thing will be true in the other cities he visits.

Louis takes a real risk every time he enters a ring. Apart from the damage he may suffer from an opponent's blow, Joe always runs the chance of receiving a physical injury that will cause him to go down to defeat.

A cut eye or a broken hand as well as a knockout blow could bring about Louis' defeat on Monday night.

If one were asked to appraise the value of the heavyweight championship one would place it at $1,000,000.

Jack Dempsey earned close to $4,000,000 as champion, Gene Tunney almost $2,000,000 while Louis is rapidly approaching the $1,000,000 mark.

If McCoy can win in the Garden, he can earn $500,000 within six months by means of the movies, theatrical appearances and a return bout with Louis in the Yankee Stadium, New York next June.

Mike Jacobs of the Twentieth Century Club has not overlooked the possibility of a McCoy victory. He has Al signed for a return bout with the champion in New York in the event he stops Louis of his title. It would, of course, be an outdoor show, and would draw close to $1,000,000 which was the gate for the Louis-Beyer bout.

Jacobs does not believe McCoy will win, but he recognizes the possibility of a ring upset and wishes to safeguard his interests.

When Henry Armstrong recently fought Fritzie Zivie, few persons thought Zivie would win. Jacobs had the victor under contract for a return bout with Armstrong that will be staged in the New York Garden on January 17. Incidentally Mike Kaplan of Roxbury, who is training at Kelley & Hayes Gym, will meet the winner for the Goodwin A. C. in the Garden in February.

MCCOY COMPLETED his boxing drills with a lively workout at Kelley & Hayes' Gym. Al will go on the road today and do some light exercises. Tomorrow McCoy will do a few gym exercises and then conserve his strength until he enters the ring with Louis.

"McCoy has boxed 60 rounds during his training for Louis," said Trainer Ray Arcel. "He is in perfect physical condition. I think he will upset the dope and win Monday night. One thing you may be sure of and that is that McCoy will be in there fighting every second he is in the ring. Al is not the least bit afraid of Louis. To Jim Joe is just another fighter."

"It is a good mental attitude for McCoy to have. I look for him to make a grand showing as he did against Conn. Give McCoy a break and he will win."

'Pennant,' Say Indians

CLEVELAND, Dec. 13 (AP) —A seven-player shuffle in the American League set Cleveland Indians fans jabbering gleefully today about "Bagby" and "pennant"—which mean the same hereabouts.

The Cleveland Boston-Washington trade, announced by the Indians' management, brings Jim Bagby, Jr., to the mound where his father, the immortal "Old Sarge" Bagby, hurled Cleveland to world championship in 1920.

Unscrambled, the three-cornered deal goes thus:

The Boston Red Sox sent Outfielder Roger Cramer to the Washington Senators in trade for Outfielder Gerald Walker.

That set the stage for Boston to send Bagby, Walker and Catcher Gene Desautels to Cleveland in return for Catcher Frankie Pytlak, Infielder Jim Bagby, Odell Hale and Pitcher Joe Dobson.

The Indians' belief in Santa Claus was clinched by receipt of the hard-hitting Walker, for the opinion was almost unanimous that such an outfielder could have made them a present of the pennant this year.

Walker has averaged exactly 100 runs batted in for five consecutive years.

EVERYBODY HAPPY

To boot—the name, and maybe the game, of a Bagby.

Of the son, Mr. Roger Peckinpah of the Indians says this:

"Don't forget young Bagby has some prospects. I feel we can count on him for upward of 10 games every year—how far upward I don't know."

"I am delighted with the deal," exulted the Rajah who participated with Vice-President C. C. Slapnicka in the trade at Chicago with President Tom Yawkey and Mgr. Joe Cronin of the Red Sox.

Christmas joy was Boston's, too, for how the Red Sox needed the catching strength of Little Mite Frankie Pytlak, only old Jimmy Foxx knows—Foxx and every other baseball follower in the world.

Foxx filled in behind the plate for a while this year, but had to return to first base.

Pytlak at Boston will be minus his competition with Rolie Hamesley for the Indians' first string catching job—a circumstance which sometimes found the hustling but temperamental Frankie away on fishing trips.

Peckinpah commented: "For the second-string catching job Desautels will be every bit as good as Pytlak because he won't object to playing second fiddle."

The trio joining the Indians caught the Santa Claus spirit, too. Walker said: "We'll be up there battling the Yanks for the pennant," and gave thanks that "I won't have to bat against Bobby Feller any more."

Bagby said:

"I didn't pitch my own game with Boston. I will be able to play much better baseball under different management. I like the trade."

Bagby won 10 games and lost 16 this year, dropping several close ones to Cleveland.

Desautels said:

"This deal suits me fine. I think the Indians got very much the best of the bargain. Thank goodness, I won't have to face that Bobby Feller again."

BRUINS POINTING FOR LEAFS

Gordon Bruce and Terry Reardon, young Bruins rookies from Hershey, worked out at the Garden as the Bruins had a fast hour session in preparation for their important league game next Tuesday with the Toronto Leafs.

Assistant Bruins manager, appraised the youngsters play from a seat in the stadium but after the practice was non-committal as to his plans or as to whether or not the youngsters would play with the Bruins and present Bruins he sent to Hershey, on whether the youngsters would go back to Hershey.

"I have to see more of Bruce and Reardon," Ross said.

Gordon Bruce "Don's rush me."

In their practice yesterday they continued to show the same speed and clever combinations play which resulted in their 6-2 victory over Rangers.

Usually, from the way in which Ross uses men, some idea of his intent can be gained, but his only experiments were with the third line, obviously the line he hopes eventually to strengthen. Bill Cowley's line worked out intact, as did Milton Schmidt's line.

EARLY TWILIGHT CURTAILS B. C.'S DRILLS FOR BOWL

By BILL GRIMES

Head Coach Frank Leahy is beginning to drive the Boston College Eagles this week at University Heights.

Realizing from personal experience that the week off after the Holy Cross game softened his charges, Leahy allowed the boys to take it easy and get in shape for a day or two.

Since they resumed football activities, the Eagles have had only three uninterrupted practice sessions. Monday, Leahy graciously turned the squad over to the news-reel pixmen, some of whom were back for more "takes" the following day.

Wednesday, Leahy went to New York at noon to receive the Lambert Trophy for Boston College and left the squad in charge of Ed McKeever, Johnny Druze and Joe McArdle. So, it wasn't until yesterday afternoon that Leahy was able to start real preparations for the Sugar Bowl game.

NO CONCESSIONS

Unlike many college squads, the Eagles, because of afternoon classes, cannot get out on the football field until 3:15 or 3:30. Players who are enrolled in physics and chemical "lab" classes are unable to report until after 4 o'clock.

It is a terrific handicap for coaches and squads when they are restricted to about one hour of daylight for practice.

There are any number of institutions of learning, even in slaid old New England, which would make concessions to a football squad preparing for a Sugar Bowl game.

Players would be allowed to "cut" afternoon classes and make up for their absence upon their return to college after the holidays.

But not Boston College!

DRIVE STARTED

From the Very Rev. William J. Murphy, S. J., president of the college, to the youngest scholastic, the Boston College authorities are proud of the Eagles and fully appreciate their winning football eleven. But they'd never sanction any proposal to extend the hours of football practices at the expense of the class room requirements.

So Frank Leahy and his aides must struggle along as best they can with the little time available until college closes for the Christmas holidays next Wednesday and the Eagles start for Ray St. Louis, Miss.

During the few short practice sessions that the Eagles have been able to hold this week, the work has been comparatively light. Until yesterday it consisted of fundamentals, running through plays and grass drills. The squad is rounding into shape. No injuries were reported after yesterday's scrimmage and the players will be called upon to bear down even harder today.

SCRIMMAGE WEDNESDAY

Weather permitting, Coach Leahy will scrimmage his Eagles again tomorrow afternoon. The practice will be secret for work he reached Boston College that Tennessee scouts were present at the Auburn and Holy Cross games.

According to Leahy, it is absolutely essential that B. C. get in at least one more stiff scrimmage before departing for the Southland. The Eagles didn't have any contact work the week of the game with the Crusaders and as a result their timing was off.

If it should so happen that he gets a break from the weatherman next week, Coach Leahy will stage the final scrimmage of the season at University Heights next Wednesday, after which the squad will climb into their train and head for Ray St. Louis, Miss., where they'll have eleven days to polish off their offense and defense for the Tennessee Vols.

Rose Bowl Rival Quarterbacks Both Wear 13

LINCOLN, Neb., Dec. 13 (AP)—It's Friday the 13th and this little item is just to show that Coaches Lawrence M. Jones of Nebraska and Clark Shaughnessy of Stanford, Rose Bowl opponents, aren't walking around with crossed fingers.

You simply can't be superstitious when you let the quarterbacks of your team wear jersey number 13. And that is just what Signal Callers Roy Pitsch of Nebraska and Frankie Albert of Stanford do.

Red Sox Far From Flag Despite Recent Deals

Werber, Chapman, Ferrell and Cronin to other clubs.

FOX GOOD TEAM MAN

Fox will neither make nor break the club. Being a right-handed hitter, he is expected to alternate with left-handed hitting Lou Finney in right field just as he alternated with Bruce Campbell for the pennant-winning Tigers last season. But whether he plays regularly or not, he won't be creating dissension. That's something in the Sox favor.

Pytlak is the key man in the trading. He's a smart little rooster, a good hitter and fast as a flash. He has been labeled a hypochondriac in some quarters but that wasn't his trouble with Cleveland last season.

SIDETRACKED BY HEMSEY

The reformed Rolfe Hemsey assumed management of the club and Pytlak sat on the bench day in and day out. Naturally for a fellow of his ability he got fed up, and when Vitti could do nothing about it he simply jumped the club and went home.

He'll get all the work he wants with the Hose, and he'll be happier here.

But perhaps too much is expected of him. They're expecting him to put the pitchers on their feet and make winners out of consistent losers.

No doubt he'll help, but Jimmy Fox didn't make the pitchers any world beaters last year, and he's supposed to be a smart baseball man.

Nor did Harry Danning, the No. 1 N. L. catcher, make a champion of any of the Giants' pitchers. Pytlak's far better than anything the Sox have had in years, however.

But whether he's an ace or just another catcher, he won't mean any pennant to the Red Sox. Pitching is their main weakness, and they certainly didn't gain any strength in that department by getting Joe Dobson. The latter has a good fast ball, but that just about lets him out. We'd rather have Bagby any day.

And the infield which saw Fox, Cronin and Tabor lapse defensively last year hasn't been bolstered as yet.

LOUISVILLE PROSPECT

Lamar Newsome may be a slick fielding shortstop but he won't hit well enough to make the all-scholastic team, and Cronin simply can't cover enough ground to hold down the post day in and day out. Odell Hale is a good Louisville prospect, nothing else.

The Sox one hope in this position lies in young Ed Pellegrini, the Roxbury kid who did so well at Scranton last year. He's a real prospect.

At first base, too, the Sox need help defensively, and it remains to be seen whether they will stick along with Fox or take a chance on the hard-hitting hustling young son of Harvard, Ulysses Lupien.

Until they bolster their infield weaknesses and their pitching, they don't figure to beat the Indians or the Yankees, or even the rejuvenated Browns.

Any changes, however, were bound to be for the better, so you can't blame them for trying.

Friday the 13th, reputed harbinger of ill fortune, will be just another day in schoolboy sports circles as the scholastic season swings into action tonight.

Stonham vs. Cambridge Latin
Arlington vs. Newton

The Eastern Massachusetts Hockey League, the infant ice organization of the lot, starts its fifth season tonight at the Arena with a quartet of games. And, on the morrow, starting shortly after sun-up, the Hub schools start off what looms as the busiest single day of hockey competition yet.

Following the a. m. games at the Garden, both the Bay State and Greater Boston loops lift the lids off their respective leagues, thus making it a grand opening.

The Bay States once again will settle their arguments at the Arena and the pioneer organization of them all, the Greater Boston clash on the Garden ice. Both are scheduled to start at 1 p. m.

PLAYING FOUR YEARS

Tonight, however, brings us to the Eastern Mass. League and one which has continued to make rapid progress in both unity and interest since its inception in 1938. Throughout the four years they have been playing, the winners, which have not repeated once, were extended down to the finish.

Somerville won the championship the first year, Brockton, Dedham and Brookline followed in that order. If the schools continue to play the way they have been, dividing the spoils each year, a new champion will be crowned at the close of the season.

And, according to preseason chatter, Hudson, a school that won but three, lost six and tied one and finished third from the bottom last year, looms as the logical choice to succeed Brookline, last year's title holders.

VETERAN OUTFIT

Coach Tom Fielding will ice a complete veteran outfit tonight, every member of the starting team and a few reserves being left over. On the other hand, Brookline, which produced a quartet of All-Scholastic stars in winning the crown, has but two lettermen back.

Starting promptly at 7 o'clock, Brookline opens its defense against Natick, Dedham and Malden follow with Brockton meeting Hudson and Lexington taking on Somerville.

'JARRIN' JOHN' WON'T SIGN UNTIL AFTER JAN. 1

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13 (INS).—"Jarrrin' John" Kimbrough was grounded here, but it wasn't by an opposing line or by the reportedly "fat" contracts he has been offered if he would follow up his All-American football play at Texas A. & M. by turning pro.

It was the weather that grounded the 212-pound back, second choice to Michigan's Tom Harmon in the National Professional League football draft, and center of an inter-league fight which may rival the old National American League baseball battle of years ago.

En route to New York to talk things over with Jack McTigue, of the New York Yankees of the American Pro League, the Eastern Airlines plane on which Kimbrough was a passenger was grounded here by bad weather, after arriving more than two hours late because of fog all the way up from below Atlanta.

"Definitely I will not sign a contract while I am in New York," said Kimbrough. "There is definitely no agreement. This is just a week-end pleasure trip.

I'm going to make no decision at all until after Jan. 1."

January 1 is the date of the Texas Aggies-Fordham clash in the annual Cotton Bowl game at Dallas, and Jarrrin' John is looking forward to that game.

"We know Fordham has a very good team," he said. "We're looking forward to meeting them. Too bad we didn't have an undefeated season. We were sad against Texas—the only team to beat the Aggies."

SPORT-O-GRIMES

One week from today, the Boston College Eagles will be working out on the gridiron of St. Stanislaus College at Bay St. Louis, Miss. . . . Terry Reardon and Gordie Bruce, who were recalled from the Hershey club by Manager Art Ross, have better than an even chance of staying with the Bruins.

If the Mass. Open becomes a $5000 championship, Freddie Corcoran will see to it that all of the big name pros enter it and PLAY . . . C. Gordon-Mallonee of Johns Hopkins probably is the only hyphenated coach in football. He might get away with the hyphen at B. C. but not with Mallonee . . . C. Desmond Wadsworth will pep up the state boxing commission. The boxing game, particularly the amateur branch, is in need of an up and coming commissioner.

Despite the 12 to 6 shellacking Yale handed the Terriers, Coach John "Snooks" Kelly is still confident that his B. C. Eagles will beat the Elis in New Haven Saturday . . . Until this year, the Lambert Memorial Trophy Committee had never been unanimous in its selection of the "Champions of the East." Even the 1939 Cornell machine didn't get all the votes . . . Coach Hago Harrington's Olympics will make their first appearance in over two weeks at the Garden tomorrow night against the New York Rovers. On Sunday afternoon, they will meet the River Vale Skaters at the Garden.

We expect that Pres. Bob Quinn will make a very important announcement upon his return home tomorrow. Although Quinn has made only one statement since the controversy over the selling of the Bees to Al Powell started, the public has been given two versions of his status quo. Definitely, one was the brain child of a scribe . . . Judging from the publicity he's received here, Maxie Haer is still good "copy" . . . According to Gene Andersen, Oyster Harbors is in wonderful condition. He says that Mike McDonough, the greenskeeper, has the fairways and greens in almost mid season condition. A large delegation of Bostonians plan to week-end at "The Harbors."

Johnny Druze, the Boston College end coach, is wondering if Uncle Sam will get him to sign on the dotted line before the future Mrs. Druze does . . . Just as soon as he returns from the Sugar Bowl game, Joe McArdle, Frank Leahy's line coach, expects to be affiliated with a nationally known distillery . . . Ernie Quigley lost a very soft and remunerative job when the National League made Bill Kleim its empire-in-chief . . . Ski BY "TAP" GOODENOUGH Scribblings

WINNING THE FIRST RUNNING OF THE WORLD'S MOST DANGEROUS SKI RACE, the "INFERNO" from the top of Mt. Washington to the very bottom, in 1933, was an incomparable thrill, but also just a good workout to the victor, HOL-LIS PHILLIPS, who is now selling skies at Jordan Marsh Co.'s Inviting Snow Hut!

Surrounded by a veritable forest of hickory skis, poles, and accessories that were being purchased by eager customers, we had a most interesting chat with this chap.

Describing that first "Inferno," the daring Mr. Phillips calmly stated that there was a visibility of but 10 feet at the summit of Mt. Washington when about 15 racers awaited the word "Go!" in a swirling fog eight years ago. And that first classic was run without control flags, as well as being before the Sherburne Trail had been constructed! Down, down plunged the runners, one by one, in dizzy descent.

They slipped over an ice-covered cone at a terrific speed, then emulated dive-bombers as they dropped down the headwall of Tuckerman Ravine, hurtling between jutting black ice blocks! Then down the brook and the old Fire Trail and into Pinkham Notch for the finish, leaving a smoking trail of ski dust behind in the 4 1/2 mile course.

Also bright, sensational stock-exchange schuss, finished second, that year, with his pal, Sam Wake-man third.

Hollis Phillips, who belongs to the Appalachian Mountain Club, has been skiing for 15 years, and what an enthusiast! Last winter, he and his wife had a camp near Mt. Washington for four months. "I skied every day," declared Hollis, "some days running the Wildcat Trail three times, but I couldn't get enough of it!"

This expert is going to give ski lessons at the Commonwealth Country Club this season. He'd rather ski than eat!

Another affable expert at Jordan's is Oscar Cyr, well-known certified professional ski instructor. Here is a busy man indeed! Besides pushing the excellent Ski Press which he designed, Oscar will have his own ski school again at Woodstock, Vermont. He will also supervise branches of the ski school at the Dedham Country Club, Oakley Country Club, Groton, Cedar Hill, Ashmont, Winchester and other places around Boston. Bill Eagleson of Watertown will help at these spots.

The bronzed and weather-beaten Maestro Cyr is also going to be the four-event ski coach of the Williams College team. They will open their schedule at the Inter-collegiate meet in Franconia, N. H., on Dec. 21.

For his first assistant at Woodstock, Oscar has signed up Bert Herbert, Franconia high school flash of 1938. This led went to Madison Square Garden with Sig Buchmayr for the 1938 Winter Sports Show to demonstrate technique. Sig considers Herbert his most promising protege. Last winter he served in Fred Nachbauer's ski school at Laconia. He has a grand record as an intercollegiate and class A racer.

A colorful trip was made by Oscar Cyr last spring when he and Arnold Pierpont drove to Sun Valley in three days! They stayed at this often-exploited resort for 10 days, racing in the Sun Valley Downhill and Slalom Championships.

Oscar also raced at Salt Lake City, Alta, Mt. Hood, Mt. Rainier, the California Sugar Bowl, Denver, Mt. Baker, Shasta, and skied on the Snowy Range at Laramie, Wyoming, and on Pike's Peak. He spent one week and a lot of money in Hollywood!

FRED NOSBORTHY is another skiing salesman at the Snow Hut, an instructor last year with the Plymouth Swiss Ski School. Fred is now starting his own school at Plymouth, N. H., with headquarters at the Western Slopes Inn. Classes will commence on Christmas Day and run until April. Five assistants will aid Fred in imparting ski lore to all.

"Instead of adapting an individual to a technique," said Fred, "I shall endeavor to adapt technique to the individual."

This ingenious lad places emphasis on the fact that skiing should be fun. A knowledge of control is absolutely necessary. No runner can relax completely. Week-end skiers are not in perfect shape; hence, they are not relaxed. Injuries are caused when people are tense. Fred says:

"Don't ski slopes that are beyond your own ability; use caution and discretion. Advise others of lesser ability to slow down or take off skis!"

Good advice, Fred!

Other men skilled in skiing at Jordan's are Henry Kant, Tom Crawford, Roger Corey and Francis LeBlanc, who is the treasurer of the Old Colony Ski Club of Quincy.

SKI STORIES

The National Ski Patrol has recently issued a book telling of its important work and what it means to you. Every skier should read it. Ask your sporting goods dealer to get you a copy free of charge.

An exhibition of cartoons, pen and ink and water colors will be held next Monday evening at the Hotel Vendome in Boston by Max Barsis, author and illustrator of "Bottoms Up" and "Barsis at Snow Valley." Max is leaving the following day for Sun Valley. Skiers wishing to come for dinner should make reservations. Otherwise everyone is invited to visit the Salon at the Vendome in the evening.

The ski business booms! Hotels all over the north country report heavier early reservations than ever. Make yours now for Christmas and New Year! The Dark-mouth Outing Club's ski tow at Oak Hill, Hanover, last Saturday had the biggest day in its five year history with the exception of winter carnival days!

Springfield Boy Leads $10,000 Oper

Loving Ties Par to 67 At Miami

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 13 (AP)—Ben Loving of Springfield, Mass., added a par to his opening 67 for a 137 total that gave him the lead among early 36-hole finishers in the $10,000 Miami open golf tournament.

Ben Hogan, of White Plains, N. Y., who shared the first round lead with Loving, showed signs of slipping when he went two over par with a 37 on the front nine.

Loving went out in 34 and came back in 36 with four birdies on his card. He missed four putts of less than three feet.

MIAMI SPRINGS, Fla., Dec. 12 (INS)—A couple of Bens Ben Hogan, slim-stated Texan, and Ben Loving, comparative unknown from Virginia—posted blistering sub-par 67's to tie for the lead at the end of the first round of the $10,000 Miami open golf tournament. Hogan, leading professional money winner thus far this year, went out in 31, four under par, and returned in 36, one over, to pull into a tie with Loving, who played the most consistent golf of the tourney's 500 participants.

HOLD ONE STROKE LEAD

Both Bens were one stroke better than anybody else on the wind swept terrain that proved too tough for many of the nation's leading shotmakers. A shot behind the leaders were Clayton Heafner, blond homer from Linville, N. C., with 37—31—68, and Ed Dudley, Philadelphia pro, with a neat pair of 34's.

Altogether 21 players shot 70 or better on the first day of this the final money tournament of the year and, oddly enough, the first of the Professional Golfers' Association extended winter tour.

Bracketed at 69 were P. G. A. champion Byron Nelson, Harold (Jug) McSpaden, defending champion Sammy Snead, Jimmy Thomson and three lesser pros. Jim Turnesa, of East View, N. Y.; Claude Harmon, of Orlando, Fla.; and Tommy Wright, of Knoxville, Tenn.

Jimmy Demaret, Hogan's closest rival in the money earnings for 1940, was tied with nine others at 70, chief among them being Horton Smith and Ky Laffoon.

After Loving had posted his 67 to lead the field for an hour or more, Hogan began burning up the course and threatened the 18-hole record shared by Snead and two others. Hogan went out in 31, four under, and picked up two more birdies to be six below with five holes to go.

SHOOTIN' STARS—Harvard's basketballers gather around Coach Wesley Fesler for last minute instructions before game with Wesleyan tonight. Fesler, be it noted, will be coaching

Fesler Five Plays Future Fesler Five

In what is expected to be a very close game Harvard's undefeated varsity basketball team will play Wesleyan in the indoor athletic building at 8:30 tonight. The Crimson freshmen will oppose the Tufts junior varsity in the preliminary game, beginning at 7 o'clock.

Last winter Wesleyan defeated Harvard, 53 to 37, at Middletown.

This will be Wesleyan's first game, while Harvard has played two, defeating M. I. T. and Brown.

Harvard's coach, Wes Fesler, will have a busy night. Not only will he be directing his Crimson combination, but he will be watching the underclass members of the Wesleyan five, for Wes is to coach basketball at the Connecticut institution next year as well as football. Three of the five starting players, however, are seniors and so a lost cause as far as Wes is concerned.

Merwin Cole, a tall sophomore, will open at center for Wesleyan, with junior Jack Gregory in the back court.

Fesler will be interested in the Wesleyan second team as it includes four sophomores—Dick Hickey, Don Johnson, Tom Whelan and Phil Norton.

Harvard's team will be the same that has started both games this year. Capt. Fannie Simpson and Joe Romano will be in the front court with Ed Rotschild at center and Ed Buckley and Bud Finegan playing the guards.

BRADY STATE CAPTAIN

AMHERST, Dec. 13 (AP)—John Brady, of Greenfield, a center, today was elected captain of next season's Massachusetts State College football team.

Tropical Park Rushes Plans for Race Debut

TROPICAL PARK, Dec. 13—A hectic week stretches ahead for the officials of the Gables Racing Ass'n as they clear the Tropical Park decks for action. They are besieged by an accumulation of badge applications, stable registrations, final construction repairs and a score of lesser odds and ends which must be disposed of before the local thoroughbred racing season gets under way on next Friday afternoon, Dec. 20.

The center of activity has shifted from the executive offices of Abe Allenberg, operating director, and Norman W. Graves, president, to the racing secretary's department, presided over by Robert S. Shelley. Here Shelley and his crew are threshing out the problems presented by the registration of upwards of 2,500 horses with their accompanying badge requisitions for owners, trainers and stablemen.

More than 300 separate registrations, listing perhaps one-quarter of the horses in local training, are already in the hands of William J. Shelley, a number which will be swelled considerably by the close of the week.

Room has been assigned at Tropical Park for approximately 100 horses not yet on the grounds. The majority of these shipments will come from Charles Town, other arrivals straggling in from Texas, New York and Chicago. Most of these thoroughbreds are expected by Sunday.

As turfmen and jockeys continue to arrive in unprecedented numbers, the clatter of hammers and rasping of saws are adding the final touches to a $135,000 improvement schedule at the Coral Gables course.

Repairs to the mutuels department are already complete; "saddle" chairs have been erected along the grandstand and clubhouse fences; four new barns are filled with horses—all that now remains on the workmen's tab are the 16 new boxes in the clubhouse and the third floor mezzanine improvements.

When this has been finished and the final shipment of horses is in the stables, a few minutes will be taken off to draw a deep breath before entries are taken for opening day — Dec. 20.

WAR LIMITS NUMBER OF MEETS

NEW YORK, Dec. 13 (INS)—Fewer and better indoor track meets will be the watchword of the A. A. U. this season, according to Dan Ferris, veteran national secretary of the organization, today.

With the war barring an influx of foreign stars and army regulations closing the armories to several of the smaller meets, every effort will be made to bring every outstanding star of the nation into Madison Square Garden.

"We will have fewer big meets this season," said Ferris, "but there will be no dearth of competition, and you may take it for granted there will be the usual spurge of world record smashing performances."

CREAM OF CROP

"The fields will not be so large and therefore not as unweildy as they have sometimes been in the past. But the athletes who show at the N. Y. A. C., Millrose, K. C. and indoor national championships will be the cream of the crop."

"We will have the usual number of world record holders such as Al Blozis, Don Lash and Greg Klee and for the first time we expect to have a team from the famous Olympic Club of San Francisco competing in the nationals in the Garden Feb. 22."

"I met Charley Hunter, veteran coach of the Olympic Club at the A. A. U. convention in Denver and he assured me that he would try to bring a team East which, he said, probably would win the national team championship."

"Hunter's team might do just that for it includes among others Cornelius Warner, Clyde Jeffries, Les Steers, Hal Davis, Tom Moore, Stan Anderson and Paul Moore."

STEERS GOOD JUMPER

"Warner, of course, is the lad who shoved the pole vault mark up to 13'11". Steers won the national outdoor high jump with a 6'9" leap. Davis won the 100 and 200 meter championships. Paul Moore is a great man at 800 or 1,600 meters. Jeffries is one of the world's greatest sprinters. And Anderson is the fellow who put the shot 37'3" to finish second to Blozis in the nationals."

Bruce, Reardon Join Hershey For Two Games

By BILL GRIMES

Gordon Bruce and Terry Reardon, Bruins recruits just brought up from Hershey, will play with that Bruins farm club over the week-end. Manager Art Ross announced at this afternoon's practice at the Garden.

The rookies left Boston today for Pittsburgh, where they will play with the Hershey Bears tomorrow night. Sunday night they will play with the Bears in Indianapolis.

The youngsters will fly back to Boston Monday, so that they will be here on time for the game with Toronto next Tuesday night.

The Bruins had a fast hour's workout at the Garden this afternoon, with everybody on hand except Herb Cain, whose nose was broken in the game with the Rangers here last Tuesday.

Cain suffered a great loss of blood but is expected to be ready for next week's game.

Bobby Bauer reported with a wrenched back this afternoon and spent most of the matinee on Win Green's rubbing table. The injury bothered the Kraut so much that he was unable to practice, but Green promised to have him ready for Toronto.

The Bruins will rest tomorrow afternoon but will work out Sunday morning at the Garden at 10:30.

Dutton Recalls Two Players; Shifts Three

NEW YORK, Dec. 13 (AP)—Red Dutton, manager of the New York Americans of the National Hockey League, today called up Fred Hunt and Alfred Thurier of the Springfield Indians, two of the American League's leading scorers.

At the same time Dutton sent three players to Springfield, Bus Wocherley and Bill Benson on a permanent basis and John O'Flaherty for a couple of weeks to play himself into shape. O'Flaherty has seen little action lately because of a knee injury.

BE LOSE BATTLES CHAMPION

NEW YORK, Dec. 13 (INS)—Ken Overlin, New York commission middleweight champion, today weighed in at 159 pounds for defense of his title in a 15-round battle tonight against Steve Bellose, who scaled 150.

NEW YORK, Dec. 13 (AP)—Having been chosen "most likely to succeed" by the fight critics after his first experience with Ken Overlin six weeks ago, young Steve Bellose of the Bronx will have another shot at the middleweight champ tonight at Madison Square Garden.

Steve earned the respect of the fight crowd by knocking Overlin very flat in the sixth round of their first meeting and then whaling far out of Overlin when he got up. It was a tribute to Overlin's gameness that he weathered the beating and came on to win the decision at the end of 15 rounds.

That was Bellose's first 15 rounder, and he said the only reason he let Overlin get away in the sixth was that he was afraid of wearing himself out early in the evening and not having anything left for the late stages.

From the ringside, though, it looked like Steve punched himself out. For nearly two minutes he had the ex-sailor virtually at his mercy, and he poured a withering fire to Overlin's unprotected jaw. Overlin reeled and wobbled around like a drunk on ice, but he never went down again and at the round's end Bellose was arm-weary and tripping over his own feet.

So that is the set-up as the veteran champion and the kid with rocks in his fists try it again. Bellose, having bounced Overlin off the floor once, is sure he can keep him there this time and win.

Overlin, on the opposite hand, frankly regards this one as an advance Christmas gift.

B. U. FIVE WINS

Boston University's basketball team wallpated Bates, 49-31, in its opener last night at the B. U. gym. Captain George Pantano led the scoring parade with 18 points. In the preliminary, B. U. junior varsity beat Harvard Medical, 48-38.

Grid Novice Of '36 Signs With Giants

WAXANACHIE, Tex., Dec. 13 (INS)—Five years ago he never had seen a football game—today his signature is on a contract with the professional New York Giants. J. B. Higgins of Maypearl, Tex., 230-pound Trinity University tackle who was named to several All-Texas Conference teams, got his first experience with organized football when he played for Waxanachie high school in 1936.

He was a letterman on the Trinity team for the last two seasons. He has worked under only one head coach, Alvah Boggs, who went from the high school to the college at the same time Higgins did.

Higgins will be the third Trinity player to ink a contract with the Giants, the others being Pete Cole, also a tackle, and R. H. Sparks, fullback.

Midwest Cold Wave Is Heated for Boston

It was winter by the thermometer if not by the calendar in a wide area of the nation today. In New England, however, it was more like spring thaw, though the way.

Sub-zero temperatures marked today's progress of a cold wave across Montana, the Dakotas and Minnesota. A low of 25 below zero was reported yesterday at Warroad, Minn.

"Much colder" was forecast for most of the Central States today and the Eastern States tonight. The forecast for Boston read:

Fair on a much colder tonight, near 22; Saturday mostly cloudy and continued cold; northerly winds.

SHIPPERS WARNED

The weather bureau warned shippers against temperatures of 15 to 15 below in the northwest and west, 10 to 10 above in the north, and 10 to 20 above in the South and East.

Snow blanketed the plains states, Rocky Mountain region, portions of the lake region and the upper Mississippi valley, while rain pelted the Gulf states, Ohio valley and the Appalachians.

A gale whipped fresh snow into deep drifts in Colorado mountain areas but major highways were open. The snow fall in Colorado ranged from four and a half inches at Denver to 16 inches at Telluride.

SNOW IN WEST

Six inches of snow covered the western section of Nebraska, and five were deposited in western Kansas. Up to four inches of snow whitened most of Iowa.

A light snow fell in the Texas Panhandle. A sharp drop in temperature after a fall of wet snow made highways treacherous in New Mexico. Fog and low clouds interrupted air traffic.

Fog and rain in Ohio forced down five planes being ferried from Pennsylvania to Minneapolis. Two airlines cancelled westbound flights through Ohio. Heavy rain fall was reported in Indiana, the precipitation measuring 1.29 inches at Indianapolis.

SKATER'S BODIES FOUND

NEW BRITAIN, Ct., Dec. 13 (INS)—The bodies of two youths who drowned when the ice cracked while they were skating on Dover's pond were recovered early today by firemen. The victims were Elihu Kaplan, 14, and Richard Osterberg, 11, both of New Britain. Eleven others were rescued.

5 Killed, 4 Hurt In Car Crash

of I Co., 181st Infantry, Massachusetts National Guard, received injuries which doctors feared might prove fatal.

One of the best known National Guard officers in southern Massachusetts, Capt. Rooney was in his way home from Wrentham, where he had been a guest of honor at a testimonial banquet.

He was hit by a passing auto as he got out of his own car to help another man change a tire.

At Milford Hospital Capt. Rooney's condition was reported "very poor." Also injured was his companion, Charles Wyatt, 40, of Milford. He suffered a fractured arm.

The Harvard students which were injured in Cambridge were William Neal, 21, of Cleveland, O.; Dwight McDuff, 23, of Peabody, N. Y., and Charles W. Roderus, 22, of Wilkinsburg, Pa., all of the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration.

Their auto crashed into a Boston & Albany R.R. freight locomotive at the Massachusetts ave. crossing near Harvard bridge. Neal was reported dying of a ruptured spleen.

First taken to Cambridge City Hospital, the three student victims, were transferred to Massachusetts General Hospital at request of Harvard authorities.

A score of Harvard Business School students offered blood for transfusions. Accepted as a donor was Edward Rowley of Middlesex St., Chestnut Hill.

Milk Price Increase Laid to Shortage

Explaining a 14-cent increase per hundredweight to producers for milk, Federal Milk Administrator S. W. Tator today pointed to a seasonal decrease in production and a sharp rise in Class 1 milk.

The November blended price to Boston milkshed producers for milk with 3.7 per cent butterfat delivered to plants in the 200-mile zone is $2.17 per hundredweight, a 14 cents hike over the October price.

FBI Studies Rise In Bay State Prices

With food prices having jumped 1 per cent during November and still rising, the Federal Bureau of Investigation has begun a probe into the cause of the increase, John P. McBride, state director of the division and necessities of life, said today.

His department will co-operate with the federal men to determine if there have been "unconscionable profits," McBride stated.

Huge Norway Liner Sunk

NEW YORK, Dec. 13 (AP)—Authoritative shipping circles said today that the 18,673-ton passenger liner Oslofjord, Norway's largest and finest ship, struck a mine and sank two days ago off Newcastle in the British Isles.

Chartered by England after seeking refuge here from the war, the Oslofjord sailed secretly last Oct. 26 for Halifax, where she reportedly picked up Canadian aviators for England.

She was reported to have landed the aviators and to have started back to Canada when she struck the mine.

Japan to Tighten Control of Press

TOKYO, Dec. 13 (AP)—Five decrees to tighten government control of Japan's economy and newspapers will be considered by the government's general mobilization committee tomorrow. It was announced today. If approved they will be promulgated as imperial ordinances.

The newspaper Asahi said one decree, providing for "control of press reports," would enable the government to prohibit or restrict publication of news items dealing with foreign and economic policy. The other decrees would control prices of farm lands, forest lands and untitled fields and daily necessities and essential materials.

Nazis to Free 20,000 Belgian Prisoners

BERLIN, Dec. 13 (AP)—Twenty thousand Belgian prisoners of war are to be returned to their homes before Christmas, authorized sources said today. They will be moved from Germany as soon as transportation is available.

After Christmas an additional 70,000 are to be sent to their homes which, it was pointed out, mainly are in agricultural districts.

1—It Seems There Were a Cat and Dog Who Liked Milk

4—But They Could Swim, and Swim They Did . . . in Milk

2—Greedy, They Weren't Content with Just Spilled Milk

5—And, Oh, the Ignominy of Such a Rescue. Oh, Oh, Oh

3—And, So, the Little Piggies Went Kersplash . . . Squish

6—But Now, It's No Use Crying Over Spilled Milk

Doggy Cat-astrophy—Six pictures tell the story, better'n words, of Jack, the pup, and Jill, the kitten, who weren't content with just a splash of milk, but wanted a whole pailful . . . and got one, up to here. The grand finale shows them sadder, but philosophical, about it all. The pictures were made at the Bide-a-Wee Home in New York.
